MRS. DROWN FORMALLY CHARGED

Slayer of Husband Is Booked for Murder Police Mystified Over Killing in Lakeside District

MRS. MILLIE DROWN was charged this afternoon by the Oakland police with the murder of her husband, Archer C. Drown, the warrant being sworn to by Inspectors Richard McSorley and William Emigh on their information and belief. The inquest over the body of Archer Drown, favorite son of the late Colonel A. N. Drown of San Francisco, will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at the local morgue, and at that time Mrs. Drown will be the principal witness before the coroner's jury. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

The police hope tonight to obtain material evidence from the statements of important witnesses before the coroner's jury. The refusal of Mrs. Drown to talk to the detectives and the refusal of Willard Drown, brother of the murdered man, to give an account of the conversation in which Mrs. Drown confessed to him that she had shot her husband in the beautiful home in Rand avenue, in the Piedmont district, has made it impossible for the police to obtain the evidence they need to make out a complete case, and they are mystified in the effort to formulate a satisfactory theory in the matter.

WHAT HAPPENED PREVIOUSLY? Inspectors Emigh and McSorley have been working since Saturday morning on the strange murder case, but they have not succeeded in obtaining information as to what Mrs. Drown told her brother-in-law, or as to what happened in the home of the murdered man in the hours immediately preceding the murder or in the time which intervened between the murder and the finding of the body, a period of some 24 hours. The police are mystified also over the fact that the brother of the murdered man has come to the rescue of the woman accused of the murder and has retained Attorney A. L. Frick to defend her. They are baffled by the extraordinary complications which have interlarded themselves with the murder of Drown and are making a thorough investigation into the affairs of the Drown family, running back over a period of several years. In their investigation they have been unable so far to formulate what they consider a reasonable motive for the murder. They declare that Drown was shot in cold blood while he was asleep, and they combat the theory that Mrs. Drown, accused of the murder, was temporarily insane at that time or that she is mentally deranged now.

They believe that the murder was premeditated and that the woman had brooded over the matter for weeks before she finally nerved herself to be act. A conversation between Mrs. Drown and her husband some days prior to the shooting was almost the only information the inspectors

PORTOLA BAY TRAVEL RECORD-BREAKING

Crowds Double Those of Ordinary Days, Reports S. P.

That the recent Portola crowd was one of the largest ever entertained by San Francisco is borne out by data received today from the Southern Pacific Company. The ordinary ferry travel doubled during the festival, daily, and this ran up to 60,000, while on Saturday the company handled 75,000 passengers. The total travel on the ferries during the Portola festival was 363,000 from 100 points, and 50,000 from 100 points. Statistics thus show that the traffic handled by the company during the Portola just closed was about ten per cent greater than that of the last celebration.

MORALITY AND NOT EXPEDIENCY, SAYS PRESIDENT

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 27.—President Wilson announced to the world today that the governing motive of the United States in its relations with the countries of this hemisphere would be "morality and not expediency." "I want to take this occasion to say," he declared, "that the United States will not again seek to secure one additional foot of territory by conquest."

BURGLAR IS LAKESIDE SUSPECT

William Bastain, Thief de Luxe, Had Indentical Methods

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Although William Bastain, the self-confessed burglar, who for ten years has been living at ease in this community and has amassed a fortune from his operations, will not admit that he has journeyed outside of the city limits, although his adventures are still thought that he may be the Lakeside robber who has been operating in Oakland. The methods followed by the de luxe thief in entering residences here are identical with those used by the burglar whose frequent raids on the homes adjacent to Lake Merritt have baffled the police. Bastain is a handsome chap and one of the smoothest and cleverest culprits who has ever been in the city prison. He is the last man who would ever be taken for a porch climber, although his athletic build undoubtedly aided him in scaling his way to the upper windows and porches of the wealthy residences in this city. His chief crime, and the one which immediately made him notorious in the eyes of the police, was his theft of $500 in jewels and heirlooms from the home of S. N. Wood and the sensational episode which followed.

Today Bastain's chief anxiety is for the welfare of his sister, who occupies a dormitory in the city prison and refuses to make any statement as to her brother's whereabouts. She has been charged. He is being held in detention until the police determine just how many accusations of burglary will be lodged against him.

BRAVE DEATH IN DANGEROUS FIRE

Police and Firemen Remove Explosives From Flames

Led by Corporal Conroy, eight policemen, aided by a like number of firemen, braved death at 2:20 o'clock this morning when they rushed into a blazing barn, belonging to the Peoples Water Company, at the foot of Sixth-second avenue, and carried out can after can of coal oil and gasoline before the flames from 110 tons of hay reached the explosives. Four horses and a few pieces of furniture were also taken from the building before it was totally destroyed. The flames were first noticed by Watchman Ed Morrell who turned in the alarm which was speedily responded to. When the crowds which gathered were told of the nature of the contents of the barn they backed away from the blazing building but the police and firemen did not halt in their rush to drag the dangerous gasoline and coal oil from the blaze. Had the flames reached one of the cans of gasoline the explosion would have

OFFICERS OF CHURCH RESIGN

First Presbyterian Elders and Deacons Quit Believe They Cannot Act Further With Present Pastor

At a meeting of the session of the first Presbyterian Church held last evening, twelve of the fourteen elders and three of the deacons of the church resigned, their reason for this action being that they were unwilling to remain in office longer with Rev. Dr. Goodspeed as pastor of the church. They felt that they could not conscientiously remain in charge of the spiritual affairs of the church under the leadership of the present pastor. It is stated that these resignations will be followed by those of all officers of the various ladies' societies of the church, and that the trustees will follow suit as soon as it is possible for them to be relieved of their duties in connection with the completion of the new church.

Much has been said in the press and elsewhere relative to the feeling of the people of this church regarding the retention of Dr. Goodspeed. It has been said that a vast majority of the people are supporting the present pastor. This is all predicated upon the proposition that the action of a 10-15 church meeting, at which the vote favoring his retention was approximately 3 to 1, represented the real sentiment of the church.

There is one very important fact which has apparently been lost sight of. On the evening preceding the meeting of the church society an agreement, dictated by the pastor, was drawn up and signed by himself and Roscoe Jones, his representative, closing as follows: "And further, looking to the harmony and best interests of the church and our pastor, we pledge ourselves to use our best endeavors to have his resignation accepted without discussion at a meeting of the church society to be called in the near future." The result of the pledge, those who favored the acceptance of his resignation were thrown entirely off their guard. Naturally they supposed the matter settled and that the action of the church meeting would be formal only. With entire disregard of their pledge however a most strenuous effort was made by the pastor and his close friends to gather to this meeting every man, woman and child who could be relied upon to vote for the pastor; that the result was a vote in his favor is not to be wondered at.

VOTE FOR RETIREMENT. Another very significant fact is that the members of a committee of five appointed by the Presbytery to investigate this matter reported unanimously in favor of the retirement of Dr. Goodspeed. This committee,

Confesses Slaying Of Denver Man

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 27.—James Nelson, alias Frank Allen, today confessed to the police that he killed Thomas Chase last Friday night when he held up Chase and a companion. The confession clears the mystery surrounding a reign of crime in Denver last week which for several nights baffled the police. Nelson, when arrested yesterday, admitted that he was responsible for many highway robberies, but until today denied knowledge of the murder.

1500 Telegraphers Threaten Strike

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 27.—A strike of 1500 telegraphers of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway system was threatened today when General Manager W. A. Webber of the railroad refused to consider the telegraphers' demand until December 15. The men's committee said the telegraphers would decide whether to strike within the next twenty-four hours.

ENGLAND AWAITS RESULT OF ELECTION TO DEFINE POLICY

PREFERS TO CONSULT WILSON

Mexican Situation More Involved Than Ever Before

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Before taking any further steps in regard to Mexico, England intends to await the results of the elections in that country and information as to the policy of the United States. The Associated Press was informed at the foreign office today that nothing would be done without consultation with the United States. President Wilson is expected to communicate with Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as soon as he determines on his line of action. As the recognition of Provisional President Huerta lasts only until the election has been concluded, she will then be free to consider any proposals emanating from the United States, with which she desires to work in harmony. In spite of reports to the contrary England has not initiated or participated in any exchange of views between the European powers in regard to Mexico.

HUERTA IS "WINNER." VERA CRUZ, Oct. 27.—Provisional President Huerta received 1510 of the 2000 votes cast in Vera Cruz at yesterday's election, according to the official returns.

General Felix Diaz polled 399 and the remaining 200 were scattered among other candidates. MAY TAKE WEEKS. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27.—The returns of yesterday's elections may possibly be known within a week, but it is more likely that a fortnight will elapse before the count is placed.

FIRST FATALITY IN FIRE-SWEPT BORE

Miner Crushed by Rock and Earth in Cuesta Tunnel

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 27.—The first fatality in Cuesta tunnel, since the Southern Pacific railroad began repairing the fire-swept bore, was reported today. Harry Stead, a miner, was crushed by a fall of earth and rock. Several other miners were slightly injured. The tunnel was burned out several weeks ago, but heat-retaining rocks have kept the temperature in the bore so high that air and water have to be pumped in continually to enable the miners to proceed.

American Battleship Fleet in Calm Seas

ON BOARD THE FLAGSHIP WYOMING AT SEA, Oct. 26.—(By wireless to Siasconett, Mass.)—The cruise of the American battleship fleet on the way to the Mediterranean was uneventful today. The weather was beautiful with a following breeze. The hospital ship Solace and the colliers Cyclops, Japon and Orion are steaming 2000 yards off the port beam of the nine battleships.

MRS. EATON TELLS ABOUT EARLY LIFE

Married to Save Life of Deceased Admiral, She Testifies.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 27.—Under the questioning of the prosecutor, Mrs. Eaton repeated her story of Saturday regarding her early life, her marriage to her first husband, Dr. H. Ainsworth, and her separation from him and of her meeting with Admiral Eaton. The admiral was very in temperate, she said, but under her care he drank considerably less and finally asked her to become his wife. "It was only when I saw that he was going to kill himself that I decided to marry him," she said. "Then you married him to save his life?" asked Mr. Barker. "Yes, I married him to save his life," replied Mrs. Eaton.

GOVERNMENT WINS ITALIAN ELECTIONS

Results Confirm Large Support to Premier in Chamber.

ROME, Oct. 27.—The further results of the Italian general elections reported today confirm the government victory and it is certain that the premier will have a large majority of supporters on the chamber of deputies. The defeat of Prince Scelzone Borghese, a radical, the election of Leonida Bisolati Bergamaschi, the leader of the reformed Socialists, by only 400 majority over the revolutionary Socialist, Amilcare Cipriani, a former member of the Paris commune was a surprise.

SUSPECTS PERJURY IN SLINGSBY CASE

Fickert Calls Special Meeting of Grand Jury

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—So wide has been the disparity in the testimony taken before British vice-consul sitting as a commissioner of the high court of chancery in the Slingsby case that District Attorney Fickert called today a special meeting of the grand jury to determine if possible which of the witnesses heard had committed perjury. The high court is endeavoring to determine whether Lieutenant Charles Eugene Raymond Slingsby, formerly of His Majesty's navy, and his wife are the parents of the child which they acknowledge as their son, or the boy is a changeling. On the outcome hinges the ultimate inheritance of an estate yielding an annual income of between $40,000 and $50,000.

BEFORE GRAND JURY.

All the witnesses who have testified were summoned to appear before the grand jury. They include Mr. and Mrs. Slingsby, Dr. W. W. Frazer of Weaverville, who signed the birth certificate, Andrew W. Thorne, a British attorney representing the Slingsbys heirs who are contesting the legitimacy of the child; Earl Webb, Thorne's assistant; F. E. Phillips, a private detective who worked up the case for the contestants' nurse who attended Mrs. Slingsby and finds for the family.

FINANCIAL TROUBLE BLAMED

Representative of Curtis Company for Many Years Company Sends Out Agent to Investigate Office

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—William H. Daniels, manager for the Pacific coast of the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia, committed suicide at his home, 1382 Seventh avenue, this morning, after worrying since Saturday over financial troubles growing out of his selling routes on commission. He had been for 23 years in charge of the California business of the concern and claimed to have built up the circulation to 90,000. The fact that he was unable to hand over $7000 demanded of him, according to his explanation to his wife, led him to take his life after 48 hours of brooding.

The company, after conducting an investigation into Daniels' official acts from long distance, sent out a Mr. Douglass from Philadelphia to carry on an inquiry at close range. His report caused Daniels great anxiety and although Douglass claims that the manager did not properly understand the situation, the latter took his troubles so much to heart that he made careful preparations for death. He was found in the attic with a bullet wound in his temple and a pistol in his right hand. He was dead when an ambulance arrived from the Park hospital. A note to the coroner was pinned on the inside of his coat and two additional letters had been left downstairs on his desk. The first missive directed to the coroner reads: "This is to exonerate any other person concerning my death, even the Curtis Publishing Company. I alone am responsible for my death. I stand by my representative after 23 years of service, when he had secured a circulation of the Saturday Evening Post of 90,000 a week, because he merely made a few dollars extra selling Saturday Evening Post routes on commission. I am responsible for my death." The letter to his wife, Rosa, is as follows:

LETTER OF LOVE. "Dear Love: Rosa, do not anticipate that I am a coward for writing this, my last note to you. I decided Saturday afternoon, when Douglass ran his little game on me that I was to disburse $7000, all the money I had made in five or six years on routes to the Los Angeles parties. He said the company, including Mr. Curtis, endorsed this plan. This money I have put in the machine and the house. Charlie, I alone am means of raising money and I would ruin him so I concluded it would be useless to call on him. I know I am not leaving you much. I do not know what the company intends to do, but they will not stand by me for making commissions on routes. They say the prices are excessive. I am better able to judge, for I have been on the ground for years. They depreciate the value of their own business. I have thought that 23 years of service would count for something, but it seems not.

BEST TO LEAVE WORLD. "So the best thing I can do, dear darling, is to leave the world. Do not, sweet darling, consume me too harshly. You have been so patient and loving that to go before you seems cruel, but it is better, I assure you. I will wait for you, and go and live with Sallie until you can join me. Darling, you have been so generous that I know you will forgive me. Tompkins will telegraph for Charlie. He knows nothing, as does a living soul. He will also see Miss Anderson Monday, and get my salary of $60. Say goodbye to all of our own dear, good friends, precious sweet-heart. I will write more in the morning." He did not finish the letter this morning. He had sat up nearly all night writing letters, but the only one dated October 27 was that addressed

SEMAPHORE SIGNALS ARE PLANNED FOR DRAWBRIDGESupervisors Adopt Plans as Outlined by War Department

Work will be started as soon as possible on the new safety signal lights for the estuary drawbridge
according to the action of the board of supervisors this morning. The signal will be a six-foot semaphore arm, lighted with incandescent globes, as suggested by the United States war department. The bridge committee and county surveyor will frame the specifications. A description of the proposed semaphore signal, for the Webster street drawbridge, was filed by the army authorities with the board.
A six-foot semaphore, lighted at night, was urged. Lights at ends of bridges and on pivot piers were also recommended.

MAY BUY BONDS.

That surplus funds of the county

highway bonds, was reported by district Attorney W. H. L. Hyman. The project of purchasing state highway bonds was following this report, filed with the supervisors' finance committee.

According to Assistant District Attorney Leon Clark there is about $126,000 surplus, besides other small sums available, which altogether will bring the total sum available for bonds about $226,000.

It was stated that the board invest in case bonds are bought, that specifications be made to insure the best grade possible.

"I cannot say whether or not this may be done," said Clark. "Legally the state highway commission controls its expenditures. There will be no work done in this county unless the county takes bonds. If you prescribe specifications they can legally reject them. You will have to agree with the commission before taking bonds."

The road and bridge committee will meet with the highway commission to discuss such an agreement.

"Let us have an understanding and then get to work," said Supervisor Foss.

INVESTMENT FILED.
The Los Angeles juvenile court conference invited the county to send its juvenile court judge to the affair, which will be held in January.
This was filed.

Notification of the acceptance of the resignation of Mrs. Bessie Haynes, assistant matron of the probation
home, was filed by the probation committee, approved by Judge F. B. Ogden.

REFUSE RESIGNATION.
"I was at the committee meeting," said Supervisor Foss. "I could not see out what this is a forced resignation and it was not shown that the woman had become more hard of hearing than when appointed, as charged. I cannot see why her resignation was forced. She put in her resignation because she did not know her rights. She did not resign to the supervisors. She is not incompetent.

The question is, Shall we stand behind the probation committee? There is no reason to release the woman."
"I will state," said Chairman Mullins,
"that this is a forced resignation, and we should take no cognizance of it. The probation committee may legally suspend this woman. They did not, but secured the resignation and presented it to us.
We met with the committee after having refused to accept her resignation."
"During one part of the conversation it was brought out that one of the women
did not have a vacation because of Miss Haynes' disability. This woman did have her vacation nevertheless, and Miss

why we should accept this resignation."
"I am willing to oppose accepting this resignation," said Murphy.
The rejection of the woman's resignation confirmed. Miss Haynes, if dismissed, will be released without sanction of the board.

CONTRACTS APPROVED.
Contracts were approved and ratified
for the improvement of Spruce street, near San Leandro. The Spring Construction company was awarded the contract.

The contract of C. E. Cotton, for the Niles bridge was also approved.

MAY CONDEMN LAND.
Order was made to condemn property owned by H. E. C. Foster, this to be used for the new Mission-Vallarta road. Foster had rejected a damage award of $225 on his land. The district attorney will prepare papers in the case.

ASKS LICENSE.
Simon Coste, Mission San Jose, asked for a saloon license renewal. This was

OPPOSE REMOVAL.
A resolution opposing the proposed removal of the county hospital was filed by the Alta Mira club of San Leandro.
Application was made by the Hayward trustees for improvement of the northern end of A street. A conference will be held.

Invitation was received from the Shriners' committee for the big "Hands Around the State" conference in Los Angeles. This was accepted.

INFIRMARY CHANGES.
C. W. Wasser was named waiter at the County Infirmary. J. M. Davis was also named a waiter, and A. Sanborn smallpox nurse.

Joe Scott, Mission San Jose, and J.
Franzen, San Lorenzo, were granted license.

MELROSE, Oct. 27.—Several thousand rifle cartridges were included in the haul of burglars who rifled the hardware store of F. R. Bannan, 4659 East Fourteenth

Bannan found the lock of the back door of the store had been broken while the

Finding only about $5 in nickels and dimes in the till the burglars turned their attention to the stock and made off with cartridges, bottles of gun oil, safety razors
and other articles in the hardware line.
Bannan informed Officer Fife of the Mel-

CONFUSED DEMANDS, SAYS DOUGLASS.

According to M. E. Douglass, the sales manager of the Curtis Publishing company, the situation here
is very confusing.

"When I was on my way here," declared Douglass, "I stopped over in Los Angeles. I learned there that Daniels had been mixed up in a deal that had nothing to do with the Curtis Publishing Company; that they intended to make a demand on him of $7000. I asked them to do nothing until I reached San Francisco. I then took Daniels to task about the matter."

As a contrary to the policies of the company and Douglass wishes in solving routine on commission. I informed him that the people in Los Angeles, with whom he had a private deal, were considering taking action with a view to getting $7000 from him. I informed him that they had agreed to wait until today. That's really all I know about it. The Curtis Publishing Company was making no demand. It was merely a moral matter with them. This matter in Los Angeles was a private deal."

Charles Wright, the son mentioned, is Mrs. Daniels' son, and he has been sent for. Daniels had bought his home and an automobile, and had a good income from his commissions over and above the weekly salary he received.

CLERK GRASPS LIMBS; THEY WEREN'T DUMMYS

Abraham Edgar is a ribbon clerk. Part of his duty also consists, incidentally, of sweeping out the office. Moving about the staircase and preparing for the day's work of stenography.

This morning Edgar was literally held over his broom, when a woman, who had been waiting for a collection of books—Kentucky, St. Francis, according to option of the buyer. She was in the way of his sweeping.

Grasping the visitor by the nether limbs Edgar attempted to move her, but a scream from the lady and a shout from the "boss" caused the ardent sweeper to desist. He thought the customer was a dummy.
The customer was Mrs. B. S. Scott of 509 Starnage avenue. She declares that the clerk is excused—that he is possibly near-sighted.

MURDER INQUEST IS HELD TODAY

Miss Alexander Appears Incarceration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Rhoda Thompson, the stenographer employed by J. V. Van Baalen, the advertising solicitor who was shot and killed October 18 by Leah Alexander, a pretty milliner, whose love he scorned, was the principal witness at the inquest held this morning.

Miss Alexander, who has aged greatly by reason of her week's incarceration, was present throughout the hearing, but was not placed on the stand. Miss Thompson explained that Van Baalen had taken her home on several occasions, but that there was nothing between them any more than the usual relations between the employer and the employee. She described the shooting and told of seeing Miss Alexander with a revolver in her hand pursue Van Baalen out of his office in the Chronicle building, where the tragedy occurred.

Van Baalen, a married man, had been paying attention to Miss Alexander, and she claims had repudiated a promise to divorce his wife and marry her. The girl became insanely jealous on seeing him take Miss Thompson home, and for that reason laid the plan to kill him.

The only new feature which was developed during the hearing was that Miss Alexander had hidden a number of cartridges in a Market street restaurant after she had loaded her revolver.

The coroner's jury, in its verdict,
accused Miss Alexander of murder.
The jury deliberated only ten minutes, and their findings were as follows:

"We, the jury, find that Joseph D.
Van Baalen, aged 32 years, came to his death October 18, following gun shot wounds in the abdomen, and we further find that the deceased came to his death at the hands of Leah Warren Alexander, and we hereby charge the said Leah Warren Alexander with the crime of murder."

AGENT OF KRUPP WAS TRANSFERRED

Scandal in Obtaining Contracts Threatened in 1912.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The scandal connected with the activities of Maximilian Brandt in bribing officers of the German army to disclose details of pending armament contracts to the agent for the Krupp's armament works, threatened to come to light
at the time of the great national celebration of Krupp's centenary in August, 1912, according to the chairman of the Krupp directorate, who testified at the reunion of the trial today. He said Brandt then expressed anxiety as to the consequences of his method of collecting information and the directorate, realizing that the ex-posure of Brandt's intercourse with military officers might result in public scandal, transferred him. Before this was done, however, the firm had been forced to dismiss Von Metzner, its chief Berlin representative, who was aware of the character of Brandt's work and possessed copies of his secret reports.
This precipitated the dreaded ex-posure.

BRITISH MINISTER IN DENIAL.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—"The British minister to Mexico did see some journalists, but in the course of the interview he made no reference of any kind to the intentions of the foreign policy of the United States in regard

The foregoing is an authorized

GERMAN CRUISER SAILS.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The German protected cruiser Nuremberg sailed on the Pacific Coast of Mexico. She will remain there during the disturbances in that country. The German cruiser Berlin will arrive at Vera Cruz in a short time to relieve the cruiser Herta.

OLD CRUISER DESTROYED BY ELECTRIC WAVES

LONDON, Oct. 27.—An experiment conducted secretly in the Solent into the possibility of exploding mines by means of electric waves without direct contact, led to have been highly successful. The method employed is variously reported to have been Ulrik's invention and other inventions of a similar nature.

The old cruiser Terpsichore, with the water-tight compartments closed, was placed over a mine, and when the explosion was affected it tore the bottom out of the ship, and she had to be towed hurriedly to Portsmouth to prevent her from sinking. It is stated that the work was accomplished from a battle-ship eight miles distant.

DUTIES FROM COUNCIL

An ordinance shifting routine matters of granting permits for standing vehicles
at certain street locations, the moving of oil or gasoline tanks, or the placing of furniture on the sidewalk, was passed to print by the city council this morning. The granting of such permits has been referred to the commissioner of public health and safety and streets.
It is planned in future to eliminate various other routine matters from the work of the city council.

rooms at the Hotel Oakland. His valuable violin, moved to the hotel, was placed in the parlor. He didn't find it in the bedroom. Didn't know the parlor was his and today reported the police that his violin was lost. Investigation found it where the helpline had placed it, and the instrument was restored to its owner.

NEGROES ATTACK CREW OF TROLLEY

Jump On Tender and Then
Throw Beer
Bottles.

Three negroes last night attacked the crew of a Sixteenth street car at the Southern Pacific depot, and had it not been for the arrival of a train from San Francisco bringing a number of passengers to the rescue, E. M. McMillan, motorman, and George Porterfield, conductor, would have been brutally beaten.

The negroes fled into the darkness, leaving the street car men lying bleeding on the street, where they were picked up by the crowd which alighted from the train.

McMillan and Porterfield were standing near the car waiting for the train to arrive before making their negroes apparently attempting to break the tender off by jumping on it. When they interfered the negroes retaliated by attacking them, using beer bottles. McMillan had his teeth knocked out, while Porterfield was cut in the left ear and about the head in the melee. The police have been notified and are searching for the assailants. The car men were unable to obtain any description of the men.

BOYS ATTEMPT BOLD BURGLARY

Police Surround Harness
Store, But Culprits Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—While the police were investigating a burglary in the wholesale harness store of Leopold & Co., 217 Market street, this morning, Officer Lyett chanced to look toward a skylight that had been broken by the thieves and saw a small boy looking in. Together with the two patrolmen, Mignola and Wilson, Lyett ran out and the building was surrounded. The boy and his companions were too quick for the police, however, and were soon in full flight some distance off. An automobile was passed into service but the youngsters got away. They were all apparently about 12 years old and there were four of them in the gang. They had stolen $40 in money and revolvers, shotguns and ammunition to the value of $90. It is believed that they had been lurking on the roof of the building in the hope of making a second entrance and obtaining more loot.

RE-ELECTION TALK OF WILSON IS INTERESTING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Political Washington gossiped today about President Wilson's speech at Congress Hall, Philadelphia, when he declared "if you think too much about being re-elected it is very difficult to be worth re-electing."

Prominent Democrats familiar with the President's point of view declared he was not giving the slightest concern to anything but the four-year term he is now serving.

"I don't care a continental about a second term," the President is quoted by some of his friends as saying not long ago. "I have been elected to one job and I must first do that well."

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Louis Teltiel, one of the best professional golfers in France, who made a good showing in the recent national championship in the United States, will become a resident of this country next spring. Wilfred Reid, the English professional, is also reported in golfing circles to be a candidate to fill a similar position at the Baltusrol Golf Club.

EUGENIC BABY BESTIRS ENGLAND

Is Daughter of Noted Writer
Who Began Career as Tribune Reporter.

Oakland may at least claim the father of the first eugenist baby born in England, and, perhaps, in the world. Eugenie Bolce, daughter of the noted writer who began his career as a reporter on THE TRIBUNE, has set the scientists of London to wondering, according to letters received by friends of her father here, and the first eugenist baby is reported to be a successful experiment and a eugenic certainty. The little one has already shown not only a remarkable physical development but also a remarkable mentality, a pronounced sense of humor and bids fair, from all indications, to be the "perfect child."

The father of the first "perfect baby" is an Austrian by descent and once his own mother, in Oct. 1922, where he was born. He began his career as a writer as a reporter on THE TRIBUNE, and later filled positions on several other newspapers. He is the author of the "New Nationalism," a book on economics. He married a "perfect woman" in Europe.

UNION CAUSE OF MUSICAL DISCORD

Proposed New Washington
Symphony Orchestra
Blows Up.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—In a crash of discord the proposed new Washington symphony orchestra has blown up. The Musicians' union, it became known today, struck the compelling note that threw the ambitious musical theme out of tune. Those behind the movement have begun the work of reorganization, but the leaders of the union today smiled grimly and watched the attempts with an ominous calm.

A Landis, an amateur whose handling of the instrument is admired, told the orchestra without compensation until a professional could be found. The first semi-public rehearsal of the orchestra was just about to begin yesterday when an intruder appeared in the person of A. C. Mayne, president of the local Musicians' union.

"Nothing doing," he declared, addressing the astonished musicians. "You can't play with a non-union man." The union members proceeded to pack up their instruments. When Miss Leila Lieberman, the organizer, suggested that the matter be settled by Mr. Landis taking out a union card, upon which the first "retorted hotly that he'd 'be shot if he would.'"

"The orchestra is discharged," announced Miss Lieberman. Today she started on the work of reorganization.

WILL MAKE LAND SHOW STATE ANNUAL EVENT

SAN FRANCISCO, 27.—Next year in San Francisco there will be another California land show and home industry exhibition.

This announcement has taken the edge off the disappointment expressed by 14,000 men and women who were Sabbath visitors at the last exhibition day of the present land show that the exhibition was about to end.

All told, 320,000 persons visited the land show during the two weeks its doors were open to the public. It was a fine show, and it accomplished much in advertising the resources and industries of the various sections of California. Speeches praising the land show, its purpose and its management, with specific details of good already accomplished from a county standpoint, were made by William Robertson of Fresno county, C. McIsaac of Santa Cruz county, Mrs. George Rivers, Napa county; Harry Main, Monterey county; H. S. Maddox, Yolo county; C. W. Wilson, Tulare county; C. V. Nichols, Alameda county; Paul Goldsmith, Alameda county; Leonard Prior, Sutter and Yuba county; W. S. Scott, Tulare county; Frank Eklund, San Mateo county. On behalf of the realty dealers and the land show, A. L. Harrigan, Charles R. Kendrick and Edward H. Brown spoke briefly.

SHIP STANLEY DOLLAR IS TAKEN FROM REEF

BELLEVILLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—The steam schooner Stanley Dollar, which was hung up on the Vиви rocks, ten miles southwest of here, Thursday night in a heavy fog while entering this harbor, has been floated and docked at the Bluedel-Donovan mills pier at 5 o'clock. Captain Thwing says the hull is slightly damaged. Telegraphic orders were received from San Francisco last night to discharge the cargo of lumber and send the damaged schooner to dry dock at Seattle.

CAMINETTI SAYS YEE CAN REMAIN

Lad Who Traveled 7000 Miles
Permitted to Join Father
Here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Little Yee Dong Foy, the 7-year-old son of Yee Nam Gin, head porter at the Von Dorn, who made the trip from South China alone several weeks ago, can now join his father here without any further question. Commissioner General of Immigration A. Caminetti recommended this action to Secretary of Labor W. P. Wilson, thus reversing the ruling of the local immigration officials, news of this ruling just having been received by F. R. Starke, who represented the Chinese in the appeal to Washington.

The merits of the case of the little Chinese boy were presented to Washington officials by the Chinese consul.

It was in the case of a young boy, R. Woodland Gates of Washington, after Bell's return to California.

Yee Dong Foy arrived from the Orient on the Shing Maru August 7, and a week later was refused admittance by the immigration authorities at Angel Island. Since that time he has been out on parole in Starke's custody, pending the decision from Washington.

The local officials held that the little Chinese boy was the son of Yee Nam Gin because the story told by him about his grandparents in China did not agree with the one told by his father.

AD MEN TO HEAR TALK BY LAFLE

Regular Meeting Tomorrow
Will Be Enlivened by Illustrated Address.

Henry Anderson Lafler will be the principal speaker at the regular luncheon of the Oakland Advertising association, to be held at the Hotel Oakland next Tuesday, October 28. Lafler will deliver an address on the subject of "Real Estate Advertising" illustrated by a number of interesting stereopticon slides.

Lafler is one of the leading realty advertising men of the Pacific coast and a recognized authority on realty advertising. His address covers the subject in a thorough manner and the lantern slides have been prepared by a special reference to this very important branch of publicity. He will not only tell the advertising men present, what to do to make realty advertising more effective, but he will point out a number of past errors in extensive realty campaigns. In addition to the regular members of the association, all realty and advertising men are urged to be present.

In addition to Lafler's address, a full report will be rendered covering the recent celebration of the opening of the history-making trip, and a number of projects of interest to the association and to the local merchants which will be heard with a great deal of interest.

SAN BERNARDINO PLANS TO HOLD CITRUS SHOW

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 27.—The fourth national orange show, the dates for which have been set February 18 to 25, is to be the citrus fruit exhibition of the state of California. The celebration of the opening of the Panama canal, and the plans already formulated will make it the greatest fruit exposition ever held.

California, both north and south, will this season produce a great fruit crop, and the indications are that the citrus fruit will be in abundance. The exhibition of the national orange show prizes for the best oranges and lemons.

The opening of the Panama canal will mark the start of a new era in trade between the United States and the Orient. The fruit of the state is to be materially reduced, for the reason experiments already made with shipments by the way of Panama show fruit can be shipped over that route safely. The fruit men are to duly celebrate the opening of the new traffic lane.

Reservations for exhibiting space, for which there is no charge in that the exhibition is owned mutually by the growers, are already being made.

PRESS COMMENTS ON SPEECH OF ASQUITH

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The comments of the Unionist press on Premier Asquith's speech at Ladybank, Saturday, announcing the decision of the government on the Irish problem, give the impression that there is no chance of arriving at a compromise.

The Ulster papers denounce the speech in the strongest terms as closing the door to any settlement by consent. The Nationalist papers, on the other hand, view the exclusion of Ulster from the home rule bill can not be countenanced. The English papers, admitting that the speech might be interpreted as an offer to consider temporarily the separate treatment of Ulster, express the opinion that it is impossible under the conditions imposed, and that further elucidation before negotiations could be entered into.

I could sleep well, my appetite improved, and after taking three bottles I am strong and well again."

AUTO HITS POLE; THREE ARE HURT

Machine Demolished in Collision at San Jose.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 27.—Three were injured, one seriously, yesterday afternoon when an automobile driven by Warren B. Crow of Edenvale side-swiped a machine driven by Elmer E. Foss and ran head-on into a telephone post when Crow lost control. Mrs. Crow had three ribs and her jaw broken and is internally hurt. Harry S. Payne had a knee wrenched and Miss Foss had a backache. Mrs. Crow was flying glass and had teeth loosened when her head hit the seat in front of her.

The automobile driven by Crow was making nearly 40 miles an hour when it struck that of Foss. The latter was turning around and when his steering gear failed to work had stopped almost in the left Crow struck the tenders of Foss' car and then the telephone pole. One of the front springs of his big machine was driven through the pole and held the machine in a vise-like grip.

The doors of the torn-out burst open with it's shock and Mrs. Crow, Miss Dean and John and Alice Crow were thrown to the sidewalk. Crow escaped unhurt except for shock. Crow is a wealthy rancher who formerly lived in Berkeley.

J. McDonald and his nephew, Edgar Berg, both of Milpitas, narrowly escaped death when an Oakland train hit the front end of their car at the intersection of the railroad right of way and First street.

OLD OREGON CREW WOULD RE-ENLIST

Local Veterans of 1898
Trip May Man Vessel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Fifty men around San Francisco bay, members of the crew of the battleship Oregon when that famous fighting craft made her forced run from the Pacific to the Atlantic in 1898, to be present at the fighting around Cuba, have petitioned the secretary of the navy to be allowed to enlist for sixty or ninety days in 1915 for the purpose of bringing her ship through the canal to this port. The movement is headed by Adam Gill of Vallejo and A. A. Zeilinsky of San Francisco.

The float in the Portola parade Saturday night, a page of the famous Oregon, was manned by six of the former crew of the ship, in command of Zeilinsky as captain and Gill as executive officer. These two believe they can find 150 men who will jump at the chance of again treading the decks of the battleship as they did on the history-making trip seventeen years before, but some means will have to be found to raise money for their expenses, as many are the heads of families and could not go away for three months on the regular naval pay.

Perhaps the people of the state of Oregon will get behind the scheme to enable these men to man their former ship, and, while it is probable that they will not form the regular crew, they can be made the guard of honor in place of the regular crew. The news from Washington that Rear Admiral Charles E. Clark, retired, captain of the ship in 1898, has accepted the command for the canal trip is pleasing news to members of the old crew, who are more than ever anxious to find some way to be aboard in 1915.

AGED CHINESE SMOKES "YENSHI" DESPITE LAW

WATSONVILLE, Oct. 27.—Although the state law prohibits the use of opium, an aged Chinese residing at Watsonville Junction just across the river, appears to have found a way of defeating the provisions of the law. His system is one resembling that used by the suffragettes of England. He must have the opium or he will die just as they must have their freedom.

He has come again after a sojourn in the Monterey county jail at Salinas and is reported to be using the drug in his accustomed manner. His last trip was this third on the same charge. After a short sojourn there without an opium, he became so seriously ill that he was fined a small sum and allowed to go. Furthermore the fine has never been paid.

He is 84 years of age and he has been a drug user for four score years or more. Judge Sargent is of the opinion that it is foolish to try and keep him from consuming some of it.

OREGON TO SEE TEST OF EIGHT HOUR LAW

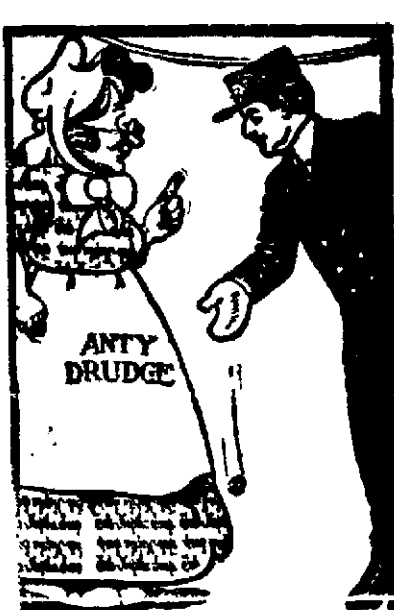

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 27.—By order of the state board of control, Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff will bring suit this week against the board to test the question of whether the Oregon eight-hour law applies to the employees of state institutions. If the courts should hold that a law applying to the employees of the state is unconstitutional, one of the institutions would have sufficient appropriation to carry it through next year without a deficiency.

TWO ALARM FIRE NEAR $1,000,000 BEAN STOCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—A two-alarm fire in the Gibraltar warehouse, Sansome and Filbert streets, this morning, taxed the ingenuity of the department and was extinguished after a two hours' fight with a loss of only $3000. The blaze started in a cleaning chute from an unknown cause. Nearly $1,000,000 worth of beans were stored in the large building and the flames communicating themselves to the bulk of the interior caused a smoky fire, which was difficult to subdue. Chief Murphy rang in a second alarm immediately upon his arrival at the scene of the blaze.

JEWELRY RIOT AGAINST SOLDIERS TOTAL $1,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Bills aggregating $1,000,000 for jewelry charged against enlisted men of the army have been forwarded to the war department by a house installment jewelry concern on the Pacific coast, with an appeal for Uncle Sam's aid in collecting the indebtedness. The department has declined to act as collector.

Conductor — "Beg pardon, ma'am, for dropping the nickel; I'll get it for you right away. Excuse these gloves too—they get so my wire nates to wash em. Says she can't get 'em clean."

Anty Drudge—"Well, that's a sad state of affairs. Get her to try Fels-Naptha Soap and she'll complain no more about washing your clothes. No backaches from Fels-Naptha or hard work either. Your wife can do a day's washing before noon if she uses it."

When Fels-Naptha Soap is used the hanging out is the hardest part of the washing. No boiling. No fire to keep red hot; no tiring and tedious rub-a-dub on the wash-board.

Fels-Naptha Soap itself does the hardest part of the washday work—loosening the dirt in cool or lukewarm water.

RITUAL MURDER CHARGE FLAYED

Mass Meeting Voices Mighty Protest; All Creeds Support Jews.

Clergymen and Laity in Bitter Denunciation of Russia's Injustice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Just about as many citizens of San Francisco as could be accommodated in the spacious auditorium attended yesterday afternoon's mass meeting in the Scottish Rite Hall, the great crowd assembling for the purpose of voicing in chorus San Francisco's indignation at the charge of "ritual murder" against the Jews in Russia.

People of all classes and all creeds were present at this meeting of protest. Jews, Catholics, Episcopals, Episcopalians—every religious faith was represented in one great cosmopolitan throng. Jews and Christians were there in just about equal proportion, the Christians enthusiastically glad of the chance to resent the slur cast upon their Hebrew brethren.

The meeting was called because in Kiev, Russia, Mendel Beilis, a Jew, is being tried for the murder of a Christian, Yushinsky by name, and the defendant is being prosecuted on the charge that the crime was committed for "ritual" purposes, and the ritual purpose in this instance is declared by the prosecutor to be the command by the Jews for Christian blood at one of their religious celebrations. The prosecution is said to have the support of the government at St. Petersburg in the conducting of the case along this line.

CHAIRMAN IS INTRODUCED.

When the meeting was called to order, Rabbi Martin A. S. S. of the Temple Emanuel E. introduced City Attorney Percy V. Long as chairman.

Dr. Charles Aked, the first speaker said in part: "We have gathered here this afternoon, not as Jews, not as Christians, but as men and women. We are shocked and horrified by the revival in Russia of a hideous superstition. 'I think that our protest, joined with the protests coming from the other intelligent men in other parts of the United States, will result in the ending of this method which my church has adopted. We feel in this advanced stage of civilization that the treatment of Jews in Russia is an offense to us."

Chairman Long next read telegrams from Lieutenant-Governor Wallace and J. Stitt Wilson of Berkeley, expressing regret.

Lieutenant-Governor Warren R. Porter, the second speaker, said: "We know of no other way of calling the attention of the Russian government to our disapproval of such an unjust and unchristian method which my church has adopted. We feel in this advanced stage of civilization that the treatment of Jews in Russia is an offense to us."

ROSEBUSH IS CHEERED.

Mayor Rolph, who was heartily cheered upon his arrival at the hall, was again warmly received as he took the platform. At the conclusion of the meeting, the speaker of this evening, declared the mayor. "San Francisco is not going to stand for this outrage in Russia. She is certain to make a mighty effort to protect the rights of the people of this city. I am proud to represent the people I want to voice the protest of all the citizens of this city against the injustice. Humanity's interest is our interest and for the people."

W. R. H. Goodspeed, dean of the Episcopal church of San Francisco, declared the absurdity of the "ritual murder" charge, explaining that many years of most careful theological research had failed to uncover any sacrifice of blood in the Hebrew religion. The speaker concluded by saying: "We are here to testify as intelligent people that these things charged by the Russian government have never been done and never will be done by the Jewish people."

Robert S. Lamm, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, said: "This charge is positively sickening to our sense of civilization. There have been fifty or more historical trials of this character, but in not a single trial has evidence been given to bear them out."

Father Ramm of St. Mary's cathedral was most cordially greeted upon his introduction by the chairman. Father Ramm said in part: "I stand here today representing the Catholic church in this city. I think that the Catholic church, as a whole, has the greatest sympathy for the Jews because of this ridiculous charge, for the reason that the Catholic church has been in the same boat herself."

HISTORY OF CASE.

Austin J. Lewis next gave the history of the case in which Beilis is accused of "ritual murder" and gave his view of the Russian government's hand in seeking to convict the Hebrew defendant as charged.

Then Rabbi Jacob Nieto presented the resolutions of protest, the mayor being the first to move their adoption. Rev. George Burlingame suggested an amendment that the resolution be sent to the secretary of state and through him forwarded to the Russian government at St. Petersburg. The amendment was adopted and became part of the resolution that carried with a cheer.

Among the well-known San Franciscans, many of whom served as vice-presidents at the meeting were Rev. H. H. Bell, Beverly Headhead, Mrs. M. P. Block, Judges Graupner, Lawlor, Dunne, Graham, Seawell, Murasky and Trout; Supervisors Volz, Jackson, and Gilmore; William McCarthy, A. Gallagher, Henry Payot, Bancroft, Hocker and Koshland; John H. Wise, Frank Symmes, J. J. Achheim, Isador Golden, F. W. Dohrmann, Washington Dodge, Rev. L. S. Dutton, Thomas Boyle, John Dinty, H. M. Johnson, Theodor Bell, Robert D. Whitaker, and others.

PRESBYTERIAN ELDERS AND DEACONS RESIGN Officers of First Church Declare They Cannot Work With Present Pastor

made up of representative men, were at least unprejudiced when they undertook the thankless job of investigation. After listening to evidence from both elements of the church, during many weary sessions, lasting through a period of six weeks, this committee reported unanimously that the best interests of the church demanded that Dr. Goodspeed retire on November 30. Yet the Presbytery, after imposing the arduous job upon these gentlemen, refused to accept their decision. The members of this committee had nothing whatever to do with the resignation of the church and entered upon their duties with the sole purpose of determining the effect of the matter upon the church.

The determined action of the pastor, in the face of the opposition from so very large and important a proportion of his flock, to remain at any cost, is the most inevitable disruption of the First Church.

"With their magnificent new structure the church should go into a larger and more useful service to the community, and it is hoped that all efforts will be rendered useless by the circumstances which exist," said a church member.

Last Wednesday the session of the church, for the first time, felt at liberty to publish the statement of their position and some of their reasons for believing that the welfare of the church imperatively demands the resignation of Dr. Goodspeed. In order that this matter may be before the TRIBUNE readers in intelligent form the statement is here fully and verbatim.

The following officers of the church have resigned:

Elders—George D. Gray, James T. Gardner, Dr. G. E. Brinkerhoff, A. W. Kirkland, E. Marvin, W. A. Horn, C. W. Hodge, Ray R. Gilson, C. C. Wylie, H. H. Gilman, J. P. Prutzman, Frank Robinson.

Deacons—D. C. Borland, Samuel Gray, H. L. Hagan and H. H. Gilman, as superintendent of the Sunday school.

RESIGNATION TO CONGREGATION.

Following is the full issued statement to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Oakland by members of its session:

In the Presbyterian system the session is given the spiritual oversight of the church, and as each elder is ordained the members of the church "promise to yield him all that honor, encouragement and obedience in the Lord, to which his office entitles him, and to which his office obliges him."

Having thus been given this general oversight, rests on the session for the peace, prosperity, and honor of the church, and to take note of, and so far as possible remove, all causes of lack of harmony, and any and all things that would hinder the peace or work of the church.

In the statement that follows some things will be told that led the members of the session to feel that the interests of the church and people would be best served by a dissolution of the pastoral relation. It is earnestly hoped that the session will be able to bring about a peaceful dissolution of the pastoral relation, and that the pastor will be able to continue his work in the church.

Rev. George Burlingame of the First Baptist church said that he was satisfied until, as in our own country, the principle that separates religion and government is in the possession of every man and woman in the world. We have no other course but to fight until our brethren are released, and until our rights in the heart of Russia will be as free as they are in the heart of San Francisco."

ROSEBUSH IS CHEERED.

Mayor Rolph, who was heartily cheered upon his arrival at the hall, was again warmly received as he took the platform. At the conclusion of the meeting, the speaker of this evening, declared the mayor. "San Francisco is not going to stand for this outrage in Russia. for the obdurate opposition did not cease, and we call attention to the fact that from that time until the recent meeting of the Presbytery, the church has been in a state of confusion. The public ministrations no word or prayer ever said in encouragement or support of the committees in the arduous and self-sacrificing work they were called upon to perform for the safety of the church and for the guidance of the church members. The church has been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion. CONGREGATION AUTHORIZED EXPENDITURE OF $204,500.

Much has been said of the great cost of the new building, but this cost was fixed at $170,000. At this time was afterward crowded up by the committee to $204,500, and that "thousands and thousands" of dollars were expended in the building of the new building. The church members have been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion.

sketches. But when he had worked out the plans to meet our needs and satisfy our taste, he had a plan for a building of everything first-class, as all desired it should be, would run the cost to $204,500, and the congregation promptly, and by a vote of 100 to 0, authorized the expenditure of $204,500. The church members have been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion.

CLAIM PASTOR RESIGNED.

It might be added that the pastor was present at all of the meetings of the building site committee at which the various sites were considered; that the property was purchased; that the building was erected; and that the church members have been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion.

Dear Mr. Hays: Will please find enclosed the statement of the church members, and the church members have been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion.

DISMISSAL OF ORGAN.

The sale of the old organ, and the purchase of a new one, were causes of great dissatisfaction to our pastor. When we were confronted with the decision to buy a new organ, the church members have been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion.

SULZER REIMBURSES STATE FOR PATSEY'S DOG BISCUIT

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—William Sulzer, former Governor, sent a telegram last night to Michael J. Walsh, acting controller in Albany, as follows:

"If you will send the bill for Patsey's dog biscuit I will send you my check to reimburse the state for the 35 cents it cost. In view of the fact that millions of dollars I uncovered during my administration it is gratifying to know that your office is now on a job and has not overlooked the fact that Patsey got away with a dog biscuit. Poor Patsey. He should be impeached."

Investigators of executive mansion accounts at Albany recently have listed various items of expenditure during Governor Sulzer's administration, among which were purchases for the Governor's dog, to which Sulzer alludes in his message.

about the middle of July, and in which the word "dedicated" did not appear and the pastor took no exceptions to it as a correct statement of the results of their interview. This shows that the fact that Patsey got away with a dog biscuit was not overlooked by the committee, and the committee was not in a state of confusion, and the committee was not in a state of confusion.

CHANGE OF ATTITUDE WAS EXPECTED.

In view of the arrangement made it was expected that the pastor would change his attitude of uncompromising hostility to the committee and toward the church members, and the church members have been in a state of confusion, and the church members have been in a state of confusion.

MADE DEMAND FOR FOUR MONTHS' SALARY.

In connection with this second of supplementary resignation it should be said that when the committee waited on the pastor he said in the conversation, as he was looking at the committee, "I will have a fine time in getting me out of the church until I am ready to go."

According to allegations against her Mrs. Huey says she was ignorant of business methods when she assumed the secretaryship, and so was taught the way to make out checks by Mrs. Minnie G. Polzer, an officer of the league.

Mrs. Polzer asserted she made out many blank checks, she believed she had torn them all up, but later one for $125, bearing her signature, was cashed and cashed therefor, and the cash was used for the league's expenses.

Frank Hartwell, who claims to be a former member of the league, was arrested yesterday afternoon, when he climbed upon the stage of the canopied amphitheater, removing his shoes and stockings, and praying for the salvation of the audience. Special Officer Love asked him to descend, but Hartwell continued his address until the police placed under arrest. Hartwell was examined as to his sanity.

2. His refusal to participate in ground breaking exercises lost to the church great opportunity, and disclosed a singular want of consecrated leadership.

3. His demand for remuneration in addition to his regular salary as the price of his being with us, when we moved into the new church, was only to be expected.

These are some of the reasons why we are so disappointed in his resignation.

THE END

WOMAN ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLING Confesses, But Says That She Made Good the Sum Taken.

The Drama or the Cesspool.

William Faversham, the eminent English tragedian, opens at the Macdonough tonight in "Julius Caesar," one of the great plays by the most renowned of dramatists. THE TRIBUNE calls attention to this fact editorially to remind the Oakland people of a duty they owe themselves, to the drama and to the moral cleanliness of the stage. We have driven "The Traffic," the most indecent of brothel plays, out of Oakland. Let us now show that we appreciate the works of genius, plays that are morally elevating and stimulating intellectually and the talents of a great stage artist.

If we allow a famous actor to play Shakespeare to empty benches what answer have we to the assertion that the public demands obscenity and vulgarity on the stage, that the popular revel in filth and cheap vulgarity? The theater has become a part of our social life. If we reject the best, what right have we to complain of the worst? We are bound to have theaters in any event; and the managers cannot keep their playhouses open unless the public patronage sustains them. By proving to them that it is profitable to produce plays that appeal to the higher instincts we will discourage the production of nasty, tawdry pieces which degrade the mind and deprave the taste.

As William Faversham brings Shakespeare to the Oakland stage, "The Traffic" goes back to San Francisco. Does it find a congenial home there? Mayor Rolph has wiped out the Barbary Coast. Is he prepared to welcome the vices of the Barbary Coast to the up-town theaters of the city? Do theater-goers of San Francisco prefer the foul portrayal of the vices and wretched doings of the habitués of the tenderloin to plays which educate while they amuse and portray the play of human emotions and passions in a way to lift mankind into the higher realms of feeling? Is the spectacle of moral debasement preferable to lofty sentiments and wholesome presentments which amuse while they instruct and illustrate phases of character and incidents that have profoundly influenced the course of history?

Of course the election in Mexico was a farce. What else could it be? It had to be a farce or a tragedy. Soldiers cast a large majority of the votes—soldiers of Huerta's army; that is, the officers voted for the men after asking them whom they desired to vote for. As the voting was by open ballot Huerta was naturally the preference expressed. Very few civilians voted. In more than half the territorial area of Mexico no election was held. The total vote was ridiculously small. The people were intimidated into staying away from the polls. Felix Diaz, in fear of his life, did not dare to vote. Calero, the Liberal candidate, ostentatiously went to his country home and let the polls severely alone. It is probable that the election is void because the constitutional minimum of votes was not cast. So Huerta remains dictator and will increase his army if he can. He will need more soldiers to sustain his government.

An Exploded Humbug.

In common with many others, THE TRIBUNE assumed that William Sulzer was impeached because he had refused to do the bidding of Tammany Hall. We had hoped that the impeachment trial would have made it clear what Tammany wanted him to do and Sulzer refused to do. Sulzer announced that he would take the stand in his own defense and make revelations that would compel Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany boss, to be examined as a witness.

But there were no revelations. Sulzer did not take the stand. He has never told his story in detail. He has never stated specifically what Murphy wanted him to do. He has mouthed and fumed and threatened reprisal, but he has never given to the public any facts on which a reasonable conclusion can be based. He claims that he was removed from office because he stood between the rights of the people and the sinister designs of Tammany, but he has never given a bill of particulars. He has said that Tammany is a predatory organization, which is notoriously true, but he made no attempt to exculpate himself or to show wherein he foiled the dark conspiracies against the public welfare he has charged Murphy with forming. He offered no defense other than a plea in confession and avoidance, as the lawyers say, and the bad character of Tammany. No attempt was made to disprove the charges brought against him; indeed, the incriminating evidence was so clear and convincing that Sulzer's warmest defenders had to accept it as true. It showed that Sulzer solicited campaign contributions of any and everybody despite his professions—trust magnates, ward politicians, office-seekers, breweries and liquor dealers, looking to the executive for favors of one kind or another, and gambled the money off in the stock market.

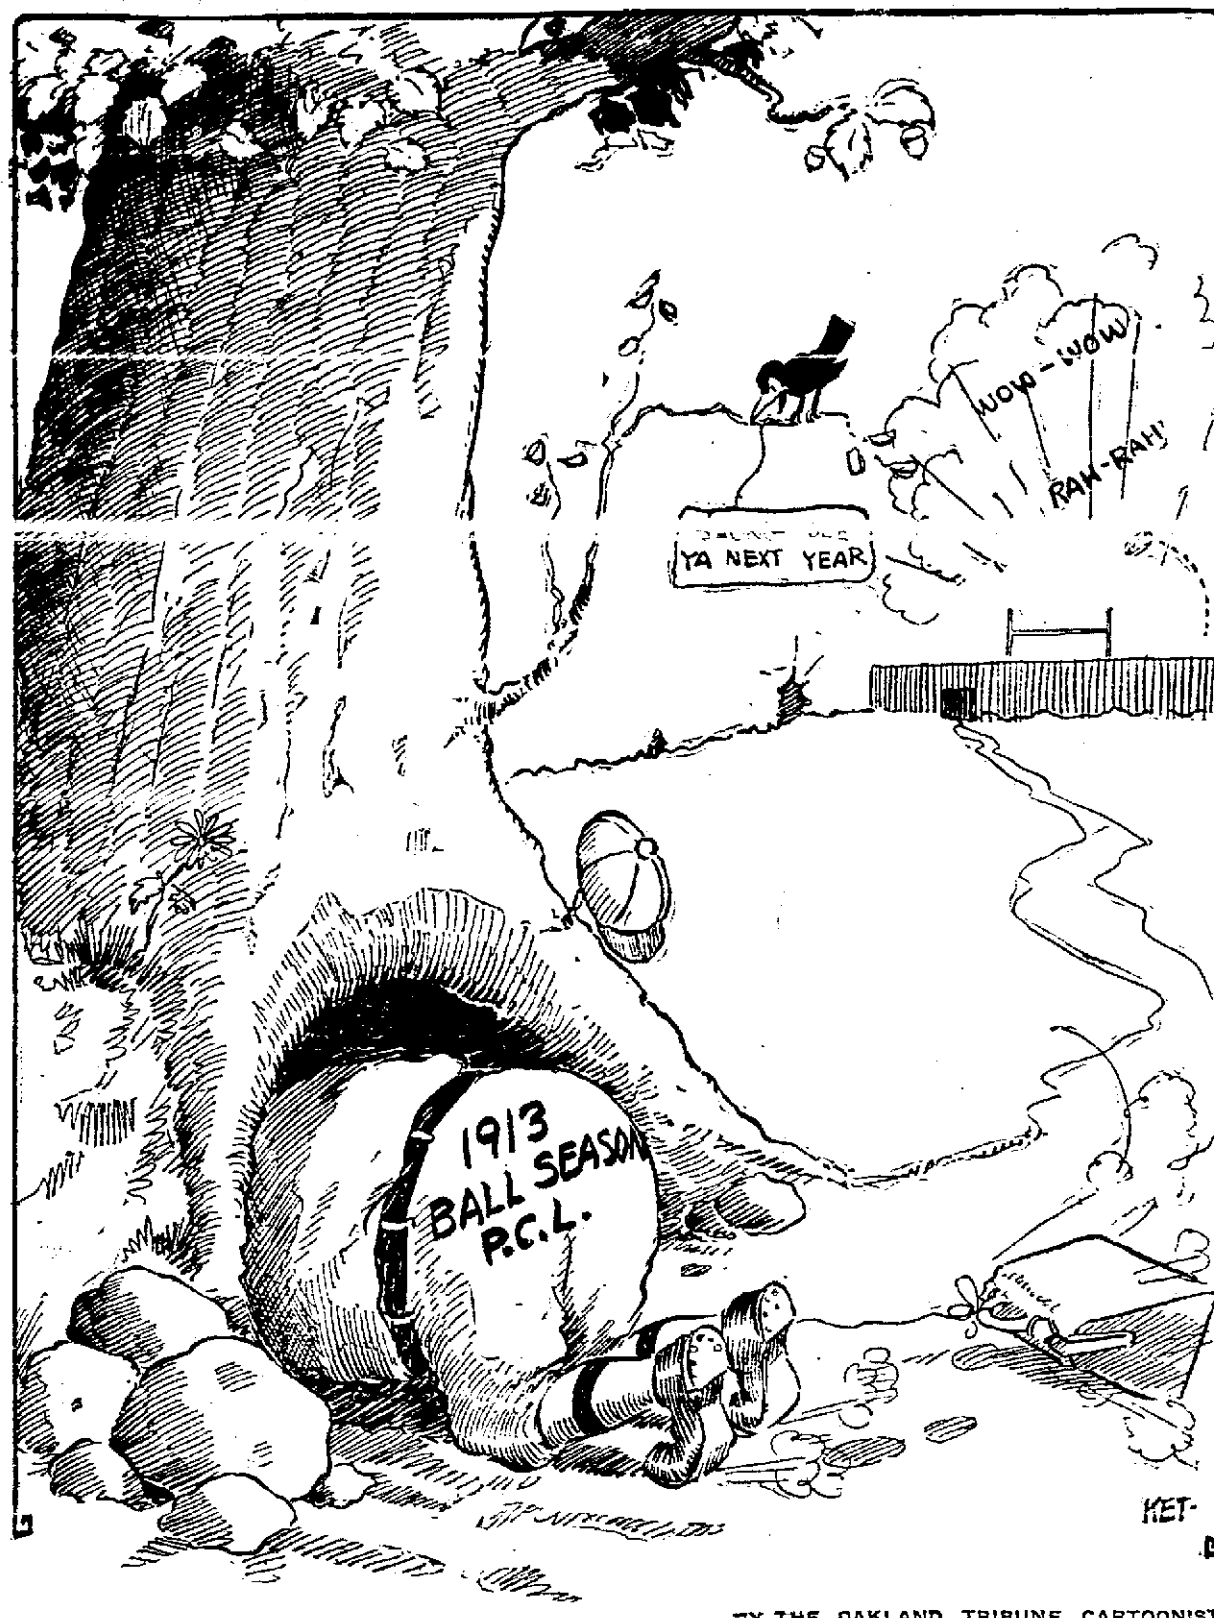

Then he filed a false affidavit of his campaign receipts and expenditures, and there is reason to believe that he induced the young man who acted as his secretary to commit perjury in his behalf. The young man's story that he made up the false statement and Sulzer swore to it without knowing its contents is not only inherently improbable but is contradicted by facts which were not denied and which cannot be denied. In short, the case against Sulzer was proved at all points, and only pity for a fallen and disgraced man prevented the impeachment court from depriving him of the rights of citizenship.

We cannot dispute the fairness of the trial without assuming that the Court of Appeals, the highest tribunal of New York, is corrupt. The judges of the Court of Appeals sat with the Senate in the trial. The Chief Justice presided. Not a single member of the bench is a Tammany man. The majority of the judges are Republicans. Eight of the nine judges decided that Sulzer was unfit to hold the office of Governor. The Chief Justice, anti-Tammany Democrat, was excused from voting.

So Sulzer would have been convicted and turned out of office if his case had been left in the hands of the court. If the appellate judges had been in his favor all the power of Tammany would not have pulled him down. His support came from the non-official members of the impeachment tribunal.

A plain statement of these facts will help people at a distance better understand the famous case. The most disappointing feature of it all is the utter failure thus far to show that Sulzer was guilty of any of the crimes he had performed rather than for which he was impeached. The public was hungry for the story of Tammany's misdoing. A credulous ear would have been lent to any story Sulzer might tell. He had said, and it was believed, that Sulzer had refused to do things that Murphy told him to do. Evidently he had no story to tell that would stand the test of cross-examination or his attorneys would not have objected so strenuously to his taking the stand in his own behalf. Judge Herrick, his chief counsel, is an able lawyer and no friend of Tammany. He frankly stated that Sulzer would injure his case by going on the stand.

HIBERNATING!

—BY THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE CARTOONIST.

So the curtain has rung down on the drama without the promised revelations being made. The public is still in the dark as to the cause of the breach between Tammany and Sulzer. Why Tammany should have pursued Sulzer so relentlessly is not clear, since Allan Ryan's testimony showed that Sulzer was willing to come to Murphy's terms provided the impeachment proceedings were called off. What were the terms? Why was Murphy so obdurate, assuming that he was persecuting Sulzer for failure to obey orders Sulzer was willing to obey?

It is all extremely perplexing. However, it is clear that Sulzer is a shallow, crooked demagogue utterly unworthy of respect or confidence. He was willing to bunco anybody. The marvel is that such a worthless stick should ever have been made Governor of the most opulent and populous State in the Union. In his fight with Tammany he had the sympathy of THE TRIBUNE, but his conduct proves that he is not entitled to sympathy. Even as an enemy of Tammany he is a humbug. Apparently he is incapable of being anything else. When he was shouting loudest against Tammany he was ready to crawl to Murphy. This does not make Tammany any the less a vicious organization, but it proves Sulzer to be nothing more than a charlatan destitute of moral sense.

The policy of treating convicts as honored guests rather than criminals confined because they have violated the law is not proving a glittering success at the Folsom State prison. Three short-term convicts got tired of the warden's hospitality the other day and ran away after knocking a guard senseless and taking his gun away. Evidently prison life has not been sufficiently easy and comfortable for the guests who took French leave. A little more reforming of guards and prisons and the penitentiaries will be emptied very soon. Pensions and free beer, however, may induce convicts to stay awhile in prison.

Just before he sailed for Brazil, Colonel Roosevelt was asked about the Progressive slump in the Third Maine district. "Oh, the Progressives are just getting down to fighting weight," was Buana Tumbo's insouciant reply. Apparently they intend to fight in the featherweight class. Last November the Progressives polled a much larger vote in Illinois than the Republicans and ran the Democrats a close race for first place. In the State election the other day the positions were reversed. The Democrats carried the State again, but this time the Progressive ticket ran third. The Progressive party is getting down to fighting weight all over the country, but it is lacking in heft and shows signs of overtraining. Therefore it hasn't got the punch.

The departure of one division of the battleship fleet for the Mediterranean sea is a portent of peace. Sailing peacefully from our shores to the first scene of marine activity the world ever knew, this squadron gives notice to the nations of the earth that no serious trouble with any other country is anticipated by the government at Washington. If complications with any foreign power were apprehended this fleet would have been kept at home. Its mission abroad is one of peace and a sign of peace. It shows that while we are speaking softly we are carrying a big stick. But we would keep it here where it would be handy for use if there was any reason to fear we would need it.

At local Playhouses

MACDONOUGH.

William Faversham attempted a daring thing last winter when he produced Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" on Broadway, New York, for a month's run. It was the first time in more than a decade that any actor had dared to protect one single play of Shakespeare's in the metropolis for a continuous run. To be sure other Shakespearean players appear in New York, but they appear in repertoires of seven or eight plays and give many chances of bill weeks.

The amazing success of Mr. Faversham's venture demonstrated the truth of the maxim that it is an actor's duty to betting the dignity of the theme and surrounded himself with a company of really distinguished artists he could look for the hearty support of the intelligent public for a continuous period. The prodigious success with which he presented this one particular play put him over night in a position to be recognized as the foremost American interpreter of Shakespeare.

When Mr. Faversham presents "Julius Caesar" in this city at the Macdonough theater for three nights beginning this evening, and matinee Wednesday, he will bring with him the original production of the play absolutely intact and exactly as shown at the Lyric theater, New York. He will be surrounded by one of the most perfectly balanced companies ever gathered together in the history of the American stage. Miss Constance Collier, the famous English beauty and recognized as the leading Shakespearean actress on the London stage because of her long association with Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree as leading woman, will be the Portia, and Mr. R. D. MacLean, for many years a Shakespearean star in his own right, will be the Brutus.

WHO CHARLOTTE WALKER IS.

Charlotte Walker, whose popularity is ever on the increase with the theater-going public, and who comes to this city next week in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," by Eugene Walter, founded on the book of the same name by John Fox Jr., is blood and bone of the Southland. In fact, she is peculiarly fitted for the role of June, a primitive and romantic girl of the Cumberland mountains whose love for a "furrin" engineer, as the mountaineers look upon outsiders, starts a feud that has lumbered for many years. She was born in Galveston, Texas, being a direct descendant of the Pickney family, long distinguished in southern social and political affairs. She received her schooling in her native town, and began her stage career in 1895 by playing small parts in Richard Mansfield's company. She then went abroad and made her London debut at Comedy theater, July 2, 1896, with Charles Hawtrey, as Hattie Van Tassel Smith in "The Mummy." Following this Miss Walker left the stage for four years. She resumed professional activities in the season of 1900-01.

ORPHEUM.

Lulu Glaser, who makes one laugh, and Rose Coghlan, who makes a vaudeville audience almost think a remarkable activity for seekers of entertainment—are the two features of the Oakland Orpheum bill this week. Miss Glaser is the same as ever, a frothy bit of comedy. Possessed of a pretty voice, figure to match, and all the alluring little mannerisms which endear her to theatergoers, the little star of the "Madcap Princess" and "Miss Dudsack" appears in the Orpheum bill in "First Love," a little comedy with just enough music to keep the audience from getting out of breath with laughter, peculiar as that may sound.

Miss Coghlan appears in an Edgar Allan Poe story called "The Student." She is a clever and clever blackface comedienne, offering an act of laughs; Andrew P. Kelly is a monologist of more than ordinary originality. The Kluding Entertainers offer a trained animal act. Pearson and Goldie appear in a musical skit, and the Haumann Trio of cyclists, pictures of the Portola festival, including the Portola baseball game, and other features round out the bill.

PANTAGES

Mrs. Myrtle Wright, champion woman swimmer of the world, with "Babe" Wright, her daughter, made their bows at the Pantages yesterday before Oakland audiences. After shattering the records of Nell Schmidt and others who have attempted the swim across the Golden Gate in the fastest time, the two Berkeleyans are starting in vaudeville with the pictures of the swim which won them fame. Anderson and Goines, tan-colored comedians, are the next feature of this week's Pantages bill. They appear in a peculiar offering for vaudeville, which is hard to describe and which is pure comedy for the entire 20 minutes, plus encores, that they remain on the stage. Pony Moore, Dancing Dave, and Pini, offer a novel act.

IDORA PARK

Continuance of the wonderful Indian summer weather has caused the Idora park management to make arrangements for an additional season of four weeks at the park beautiful, the Paul Steindorf

Sunday afternoon and evenings for the coming month.

Large crowds visited the park yesterday to attend the big concert given by the combined Shriners' bands of California and to witness the evolutions of the Mystic Shrine drill corps. The weather was ideal. It is estimated that over 20,000 people visited the park during the day.

Paul Steindorf, choragus of the University of California, and veteran musician of the Pacific coast, has gathered around him in the past two years some of the best musicians in California. When Patrick Conway came to California to conduct a series of concerts at the Mechanics' Fair, he chose members of the Steindorf's band to make up the personnel of the new band.

Steindorf organized his band for the big concert in Lakeside park. These have now been discontinued for the winter season, and Steindorf will take his band to Idora park to test out the possibility of carrying through a winter season of concerts in the big canopied amphitheater.

The first concert will be given next Sunday afternoon, and a second will be given Sunday night. The park will remain open for the skating and ostrich farm during the entire winter.

A Home Method Sure to Restore Flesh to Natural Health.

Here are some very valuable facts for all who have any blood trouble with external sores.

Today's addresses were directed at the practical handling of milk and the obscure scientific features discovered in its study.

CHURCH CEREMONY AT DRAKE CROSS

The Episcopal Pageantry in Memorial Celebration at Prayer Book Cross.

By the celebration of the eighth memorial service at the foot of Prayer Book Cross, better known to local folk as Drake's Cross, in Golden Gate park yesterday afternoon, the representatives of the San Francisco Episcopal church body followed in the wake of the Portola festival by setting the hands of the clock back to a most significant event in California's early history—this time the harrowing back to a bygone age was one of 324 years.

On or about St. John the Baptist's day—June 24th—in the year 1278, Sir Francis Drake, the great English sailor and discoverer of the Elizabethan period, who then was making his famous circumnavigation of the globe, landed upon the shore of what today is known as Drake's bay.

Reference to the pamphlets handed out to the large crowd that assembled on the grassy slope, upon the summit of which the cross is set, informs one that this was the first Christian service ever held in the English tongue on the Pacific coast; that it was the first use of the Book of Common Prayer of the Episcopalians in America; that it was the first, or one of the first missionary prayers offered up on this continent.

PROCESSION TO EMINENCE.

The procession of priests, preceded by the cross, of choir men and girls and laymen, and which was held prior to the actual service upon the eminence which is guarded, as it were, by the Drake's Cross, was formed at the boathouse, after which it slowly passed through the drives of the park, allowing to be seen here and there flashes of white and color as the vestments of its members showed momentarily between the foliage, while the notes of chanting voices set a stately measure for the feet.

Assembled at the foot of the cross, a service of prayers and hymns was held, conducted by one or another of the following officiating clergymen: Dean Gresham, Revs. H. S. Hanson and George H. B. Wright, W. H. Holt and George H. Hooker of Grace Cathedral, directed the choir.

There was no word from her this morning.

LATEST NEWS FROM RICHMOND

VALLEY TOWNS HELP RICHMOND

San Joaquin Cities Favor Big Inner Harbor Project as Outlet.

RICHMOND, Oct. 27.—Some time ago the city council of Richmond sent out a request that the interior towns of the state look into the proposed big harbor project here, for which $1,170,000 bonds have been voted and for which a federal appropriation is asked and to take such action in the premises as they deem right and proper.

San Joaquin cities of the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys have responded by passing resolutions on the part of their city councils favoring the project and these resolutions have been forwarded to the rivers and harbors committee of Congress and the board of engineers of the war department.

Congressman Curry while here a few days since stated that in his opinion the action of the towns of the big valleys would have weight with the committee. In that they were interested except in a general way, and if it could be shown that Richmond's harbor would be a benefit to the state as well as to the city it would redound to the credit of the city and the project.

Four or five sets of resolutions from the various towns of the interior have been forwarded to Congress and Saturday the following from the city council of Stockton went forward:

"Resolved, by the mayor and the city council of the city of Stockton that the construction of the proposed harbor at Richmond will be of great benefit to the San Joaquin valley and the city of Stockton and other cities throughout the valleys and that construction of said harbor will be an important factor in the permanent development and be it further

"Resolved, That we hereby petition the rivers and harbors engineers in Washington to give their approval to said Richmond harbor, as asked by the citizens there, not only for the benefit of the city of Richmond and the San Joaquin bay region in general, but for that of the interior sections of the state tributary to the proposed harbor."

RICHMOND NOTES

RICHMOND, Oct. 27.—One of the important conferences which has been held in recent years is going on today between Charles D. Egan, city engineer, and the representatives of Richmond and Contra Costa county. It is expected that arrangements will be made by which the county will buy $500,000 worth of the state highway bonds, and a number of prominent Richmond men are present to help the project along all they can.

Another conference is on today between the John Nichol Company and the city officials relative to an adjustment of the suits now pending between the city and the Nichol Company over the right of way for the municipal highway and tunnel.

The new Presbyterian church, just completed at Russell avenue and Twelfth street, will be dedicated with an elaborate ceremony next Sunday, Rev. T. H. Taylor, the pastor in charge. It will be a gala day for the pastor and the congregation, who have worked very hard to raise the funds necessary to build this fine new church edifice.

Commissioners for the opening of Maine, Virginia and Florida streets will be named this evening by the city council at its regular meeting. This is the last which opens up the holdings of the Santa Fe railroad dividing the east and west side of the city, and is a very important proceeding.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—H. N. Baker, assistant of the National Zoological park, will go to Boston to take charge of the zoological park. It was announced today. SAID ALL WILL PLEAD NOT GUILTY

District Attorney Expects to Hang Mohammedan for Murder of Girl.

RICHMOND, Oct. 27.—District Attorney A. D. McKinnzie, in town this morning on a flying trip, states that he expects to charge on the trial of Said Ali, the Mohammedan, who confessed to the murder of Rosa Domingo at Stege, set for Wednesday or Thursday, and that he fully expects to get a verdict of murder in the first degree.

McKinnzie states that he understands now that the Pasha will enter a plea of not guilty, his attorney, E. B. Taylor, having so advised him, in hopes of saving his neck, but the evidence on hand and adduced at the preliminary hearing last week is of such a nature that the district attorney has no doubt of being able to obtain the maximum penalty. Taylor, it is stated, hopes to prevent the hanging of his client and get him off with a life sentence of imprisonment.

The exact date of the hearing in the Superior Court has not yet been set by Judge Taylor, but McKinnzie will take the matter up this afternoon and hopes to have the date set for not later than Wednesday.

Musa Kahn, Said Ali's roommate in the shack at Stege where the girl met her death, who was held during the hunt for Said Ali, is gone back to work at the match factory where he appears in court when the case is called. Said Ali, in the county jail today, maintains the same attitude of stoical indifference, and the district attorney says he would have pleaded guilty to the charge of murder had not his attorney advised him to do so, in hopes that the severe penalty may be averted. Many witnesses will be present in court from Richmond.

STREET COMMITTEE WILL REPORT ON BIG PROJECT

RICHMOND, Oct. 27.—The committee named some time ago by the council to take up the matter of the improvement of Twenty-third street will make their report to the city council tonight at the regular session.

The committee, which has been in the largest street improvement jobs in the city of Richmond, and has involved a great deal of labor on the part of the committee, in that the street is to be paved and improved for a distance of two miles, and its widening necessitates the moving of many trees, the cutting through of the street cutting through the trees, flowers and gardens of a number of residences, besides cutting through the houses and stores themselves unless they are moved back.

The paving of Twenty-third street from San Pablo to the north makes for Richmond a boulevard that is of importance.

THUGS AT WORK ON LAST FIESTA NIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Hold-up men, who took advantage of the decreased number of policemen assigned to beats during the last night of the Portola carnival, made a number of robberies and other crimes, succeeding in but one instance of three reported to the police.

Andrew Mahoney of 1805 Lincoln avenue, near his home, when two masked men, armed with revolvers, stepped from an alleyway and leveled weapons at him. Mahoney was forced to halt. The robbers relieved their victim of $2 and then permitted him to proceed. Mahoney furnished a good description to the police.

While walking along Larkin street, near the corner of the Windman, 1175 Jackson street, was held by three armed thugs to halt. Instead of complying, Windman began to run, and one of the robbers struck a savage blow at Windman's head. The victim kept on running and made his escape.

In the shadow of his own doorway two armed robbers attempted to hold up H. F. Ingerson, 1270 Clay street. Saturday night. Ingerson, instead of halting, ran toward his vestibule and called to his brother for aid. The bandits then fled.

FARMER BURNED TO DEATH IN OWN HOME

STOCKTON, Oct. 27.—Enos Gallagher, a farmer of the Elliott section, was burned to death while under the influence of liquor when his home caught fire following an attack upon his wife and five children which culminated in their being driven from the place. Taking a few blankets, the mother and children walked to a nearby schoolhouse, where they prepared to spend the night.

Later they were awakened by a glare of light, which upon investigation proved to be their home afire. Before they were able to reach the home the fire had gained such headway that they were unable to offer any assistance. The father's charred remains were removed from the ruins this morning.

WOMAN'S Nemo Corsets?

A BOON TO WOMANKIND?

THEY GUARD YOUR FIGURE HEALTH & PURSE

"Me-Too" Corsets Do You Know Them?

UNTIL about five years ago, almost no corsets were made with elastic gores and bands. Why? Because no elastics existed that could be trusted to wear well.

Wearing—the LASTIKOPS durable elastic; later, we invented Lastikops Cloth, the ONLY OTHER durable elastic fabric.

We began to make corsets with these new fabrics. Their success was instant. Imitators were compelled to copy our models, as best they could; BUT—they had to use, and STILL USE, the same old unreliable elastics. They can get no other.

Don't waste your money on these "Me-Too" corsets, no matter what anybody tells you or how much they may look like the genuine Nemo. Find the trademark, "LASTIKOPS"—it's your only safeguard.

The Nemo "Lastikops-Back" shown in this picture, is being imitated by nearly all "Me-Too" manufacturers, here and abroad.

The DIFFERENCE is that the Nemo feature is made of semi-elastic Lastikops Cloth, which outlasts the corset, while the imitations have just the same old elastics you used to get in hose supporters—likely to "give out" in no time.

This No. 326, by the way, is a wonderful corset for $3.50. Has comfortable low bust; skirt is so long that it would be uncomfortable if the Lastikops-Back didn't make it flexible. Self-Reducing, low bust; for all full figures.

Other Nemo Corsets, For All Figures—$3.50 to $10.00.

The woman who doesn't know all about the Nemo has something to learn that should demand her immediate attention.

TULARE COUNTY ARRANGING FAIR

The Citrus Exhibit to Draw Thousands From All Parts of State.

VISALIA, Oct. 27.—"No better advertising could be devised than the holding in Visalia of a citrus and agricultural fair."

This was the strong assertion made today by J. E. Dold, newly appointed traveling and freight agent of the Santa Fe, on his first official visit to Visalia. Mr. Dold has not been in Tulare county for several years and expressed himself astonished at the wonderful development work that has been going forward in all parts of the county. He believes that the attention of the state at large should be directed toward the Tulare county citrus fruit belt, particularly to come to believe that oranges and lemons grow to perfection only in the southern part of the state.

Dold is enthusiastic in the extreme over the prospects for the coming fair and predicts that thousands will be brought here from all parts of the state over the line which he represents. "The Santa Fe is going to do everything within its power to make this a big event," said Dold. "Already it is becoming generally known throughout the state that Tulare county is going to have a citrus fruit fair in Visalia from December 4 to 12, that will be an even greater success than the record-breaking fair of three years ago."

The indications are that Dold has not overstated the case. The fair promises to be a wonderful exhibition of the agricultural and horticultural products of Tulare county, worth a long journey to see.

TRIES TO SWINDLE MOTHER; ARRESTED

STOCKTON, Oct. 27.—H. M. Ash, who was at first arrested on a charge of swindling his mother out of $172, has been committed to a sanatorium on an insanity charge. The police say that drink is the cause of his mental derangement. Ash, under the name of Carl C. Edwards, is said to have wired to his mother in Mississippi that her son, H. M. Ash, was dead and that $172 was needed to embalm the remains and send them to her home.

She sent the money, and when Ash cashed the draft the bank officials became suspicious in some way or other and notified the police. Upon investigation they found that no one by the name of Ash had died here recently and Ash was arrested.

OFFICERS CHAFF ON NINETY-MILE RIDE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Two colonels, the same number of lieutenant colonels and nearly a score of majors in the army, started out from Fort Myer, Va., early today to undergo the regulations require each year from its officers. The Virginia roads were deep with mud as a result of the driving rain of the last two days and the desk-soothed officers indicated clearly they did not relish the prospect of a three-days' bouncing on hard saddles.

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians.

Doctors may prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

- "Don't sit in a draughty car."
- "Don't sleep out."
- "Don't avoid the fresh air."
- "Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Over-eating reduces your resistance."

To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by Osceola Bros. Drug Stores.

SICK HEADACHE, COSTIVE, BILIOUS, IF LIVER IS TORPID—DIME A BOX

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy stomach.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely dosing yourself every few days with salts, pills, castor oil and other harsh irritants. Cascarets immediately cleanse and sweeten the stomach, remove the sour indigestion and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning—a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel bully for months. Don't forget the children.

RANCHER CRUSHED TO DEATH BY HIS AUTO

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 27.—Frank Wire, a wealthy rancher of Perkins, was instantly killed yesterday when an automobile which he was driving turned over and crushed him. The accident occurred at Willows Point, near Clarksburg, in Yuba county, a few miles south of here. Wire was attempting to take the machine down a dangerous incline. Reaching the hazardous nature of the undertaking, he asked his wife and children to get out of the machine. When he got to a narrow spot in the road the ground beneath the automobile turned over, plunging him underneath.

DEPUTIES AND STRIKERS BATTLE

Officers Are Driven Back by Men Occupying

Shots Are Exchanged, But No One Is Injured.

LUDLOW, Colo., Oct. 27.—Nearly 100 armed deputies from Trinidad attempted today to take the coal mine strikers' camp near here, but were driven back toward Trinidad after a spirited exchange of shots so far as known there were no casualties.

Later it was reported that the deputies were advancing toward the strikers' camp again. Later it was said the deputies did not intend to attack the tent city, but were on their way to Tobacco to the relief of the small force of guards said to be surrounded by strikers.

CONFERENCE TODAY.
DENVER, Oct. 27.—With the Colorado National Guard ready to start for the Southern Colorado coal fields on short notice, further military operations were halted early today while Governor Ammons conferred with operators and miners. Overnight developments renewed the Governor's hope of a possible peaceful settlement of the strike that has been progressing in the southern coal fields since September 23.

264 DEAD IN DAWSON MINE

None of Those Caught Underground Are Believed to Be Alive.

DAWSON, N. M., Oct. 27.—Positive knowledge was had last night that not one of the 264 miners caught in the explosion of the Dawson mine No. 2 last Wednesday remains in the mine alive. Late yesterday the entire workings had been explored by helmet men and it definitely was learned that those bodies which have not been located are beneath tons of debris. Two hundred and sixty-two, the original death total, was increased by the death of two helmet men in their heroic efforts to save a possible life. Twenty-three lives were saved after the explosion, which, according to government mine rescue experts, was the greatest in point of violence in the history of the United States and which, they say, ranked third in its appalling loss of life. Last night a total of 149 dead had been brought to the surface and after vain efforts at identification the pathetic word "unknown" was engraved upon the coffins in which thirteen bodies were placed. It is that word which is augmenting the grief of the mine camp. Scenes in the morgue are becoming intolerable in their pathos. Decomposition had added to the horror of mutilation, and wives and relatives of those known to have been buried in the mine stand now at the morgue gazing in horrified doubt upon a countenanced face which may be their own, yet may not be that of their loved one. A brief moment only is given for identification, the condition of the bodies being such that they cannot long be exposed.

ROBBED AND THEN THRUST IN LAKE

Accepting Invitation to Drink Costs Emory Cooke $8, and Night's Sleep.

Protesting against being robbed of $8 and then thrown into Lake Merritt while the thief made good his escape, a man giving the name of Emory Cooke appeared at the central police station last night in a saturated condition and poured out his story. Cooke said that in the evening he met a stranger who suggested that the two get a drink. This was done and followed by a walk. The men walked to the shore of Lake Merritt at Jackson street, when the stranger thrust his hand into Cooke's pocket, extracted $8, and showed the victim into the lake. Leaving a trail of water behind, Cooke proceeded to the police station, after climbing out of the lake, and told his story. He was allowed to stay in the police station all night and then went his way, somewhat suspicious of strangers who suggest drinks.

The association has been placed on a sound basis again, and a seven percent dividend has been declared on the installment stock. The following board of directors has been re-elected to manage the institution: Professor C. H. Gilbert, James Frazee, Professor J. O. Griffin, C. O. King, Professor Arthur B. Clark, Joseph C. Stollenberg, W. C. Thoma, James S. Hutchinson and George W. Mosher.

CORNER-STONE LAYING IN THE NAME OF TEMPLE SINAI HEBREW CONGREGATION AT MOST IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

DR. M. S. LEVY TAKES PART IN SERVICE

Was First Rabbi of Oakland Organization Many Years Ago.

Edifice to Be Completed for Passover Service Next April.

THE cornerstone of the synagogue of First Hebrew Congregation at Twenty-eighth and Webster streets, was laid yesterday morning in the presence of a representative assemblage of members. The event marked an epoch in the religious life of the Jewish people of this city, who are looking forward to the completion of the new house of worship, by next April when the passover services will be conducted in the new synagogue.

Dr. M. S. Levy, rabbi of the congregation, acted as master of ceremonies, which were very impressive. The opening prayer was pronounced by Rabbi M. S. Levy, of Beth Israel Temple of San Francisco, who was the first rabbi of the local synagogue. In the absence of Dr. Martin A. Meyer, rabbi of the Temple Emanuel of San Francisco, Dr. Friedlander, gave the reading from the Scriptures.

The cornerstone was set by Abraham Jonas, president of the congregation, who was presented with the silver trowel by the contractor, H. W. Schnebly, and with which he laid the foundation for this structure in the early days, which enables us today to lay the cornerstone for this new edifice. He was our spiritual guide in those days and was our minister when the cornerstones were laid at Thirtieth and Clay streets, 23 years ago. "For the last 23 years we have had as our spiritual guide and minister Dr. M. S. Levy, and through his untiring efforts and perseverance we have advanced until, thank God, we can partly realize the fruits of his efforts. Under his leadership our congregation has progressed and advanced until today we stand on the threshold of a new era. From today the First Hebrew Congregation of Oakland will begin a new chapter. But, my dear friends, to lay a cornerstone does not build the edifice. Your rabbi and your officers have a great deal of work before them, and I would kindly ask you to give them your support. His work is not for selfish motives, it is for the generations to come.

"Let the stone rest here in the name of the God of Israel, dedicated to His glory and to the glory of His people. May the structure that will rest upon it stand here for generations to come as an evidence of the faith and devotion of the Jewish people, and the loyalty and faithfulness of the people who give it their support and an ornament to my city Oakland."

The dedicatory address was delivered by Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf of Philadelphia, who is on a tour of the world. He spoke on the "Loss of the Sense of Sin," and denounced the social evil which he said was the greatest that exists today. He declared that if the churches were filled, there would not be need for so many reformatories or penitentiaries. Dr. Krauskopf stated that he believed the love of gold was held above the love of the law of God and right living and thinking.

NEED OF JUSTICE.
Rabbi Krauskopf said in part: "If there were more justice in the world, there would be less need of charity. There is a class of people who say, 'There is no need of churches. I don't go and I am just as good as those who do.' For all these people who care, the synagogue could be turned into a dime museum. These men and women forget that they are living on an inheritance of religion bequeathed to them by their parents and grandparents, and if they do not live up to a sense of right living, right thinking and honesty, losing sight of the early religious principles inculcated into them, they will have less than nothing to leave to their children. It is like a large fortune left to a son, to which he adds nothing, and it is lost away, attaining no meaning to its value. Then it is gone—that for which his parents and grandparents toiled and sacrificed, and his children and grand-children must then take off their coats and labor as did their grand-parents. Take away religion and you will have no society. Cut the flower from the branch—it will remain beautiful and fragrant a week, perhaps longer. Then it will begin to wither and decay because it has been separated from the root. So with religion and society.

"We are making wonderful progress in science and the arts, but no progress in morals. We are making no progress today of which the prophets of old taught. They knew nothing of the automobile, the aeroplane, electricity or machinery, but they had a high sense of the law of God, and they preached it. Some time ago, Sir Alfred Wallace, co-discoverer of the law of evolution with Charles Darwin, on the anniversary of his ninetieth birthday, gave expression to his deductions along these lines in these words: 'There is great progress in the arts, but religion and righteousness are at a standstill and society is honeycombed with rottenness. Thirty-five years ago, our own poet, Emerson, said that for every new science we lost one moral.'

"We need the sciences and arts in commerce and the industries but more than all of these, we need the churches wherein we can hear the law of God, righteousness preached and the Ten Commandments read. The restoration of the lost sense of sin means security to every home, a protection that is the basis of holiness and truth, and it is what the laying of this cornerstone means. God grant that you may prosper in this undertaking. Where there is no worship of God, there is gold, where there is gold, there is corruption and decay. Where there is no greed, there is greed; and where there is greed, there also are selfishness, oppression and injustice. That God will continue to bless you and lead you into all glory and peace is my prayer."

PRESERVE FAITH IN IDEALS.
In the closing remarks, Dr. Friedlander said: "Fellow Jews, according to the Rabbi, ranks first and foremost among the highest plane of ethical monotheism, seeing in the smoke of incense the suffocation of religion, pleaded 'Teshuvah' (return) for a worship of simple devotion of the spirit in place of the elaborate rites of sacrifices. While like his contemporaries, Isaiah, Amos, and Micah, Hosea emphasized a Judaism of justice and righteousness, he recognized the need of a union of expression of the soul, in order to preserve a union of faith in the ideals of Judaism."

"This cornerstone on which will be erected a temple where the spiritual cravings of the Jewish heart and the religious fervor of the Jewish soul may have undisturbed expression in prayer evidences a pious zeal of those who are erecting it for the preservation of the high tenets and lofty principle of our religion. Our assembly here this morning is an eloquent testimony to our unswerving faith in the lasting truth of the ethical and spiritual teachings of Judaism. The engraving on this corner-stone 'Temple Sinai' tells our renewal of God's covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai, the covenant of one God and one humanity."

"Many a brick on this foundation stone will go up at a sacrifice of time, might and effort. But from the beginning of our mission Israel has been destined as a sacrifice to the moral and spiritual uplift of the world. And until our mission will be completed we must bear cheerfully the pangs of the world's atoning sacrifice."

AS 'SANDS OF THE SEA.'
"Our rabbis, in their quaint way of expounding the Scriptures, see in the passage of Hosea 'The children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea' a dialogue between the prophet and the Deity; God complains to Hosea about the backsliding of Israel; Hosea replies—the whole universe is finite, why not amusements among the rest of the races and nations and thus end the vexations of Israel as a distinct people. For this the prophet is rebuked, and is told that 'Israel shall be as the sand of the sea,' that is, just as sand is indispensable to the solid and enduring of the world, so is Israel indispensable to the moral and spiritual progress of humanity."

"The force of this figurative expression is clear as it is true. The world needs us. Our continued distinctiveness as a united Israel and our continued persistence in the oneness of God and the brotherhood of man, are indispensable to the world's advance toward a better, truer and happier civilization. With the knowledge of our divinely appointed place among the world's races and nations, let us, members and supporters of this congregation in this fair and rapidly growing city, unitedly strive to make the completion of this temple as glorious as overlooking the golden waterway to the Orient, may send forth over land and sea influences of the truth for which it will stand, and the First Hebrew Congregation of Oakland will join their brethren, near and far, in the song of the Psalmist: 'Mimzach shemesh ad mevo'z menuchah shem Adony.' From the east to the west is the Name of God glorified and sanctified."

PLACES RECORDS.
Frederick Kahn, chairman of the building committee, in depositing the records in the corner-stone, said: "I have deposited in the cavity of the stone the documents and plans received from the hands of the secretary so that in future ages lasting records may be found by succeeding generations to bear testimony of the erection of this edifice to the worship of Jehovah. The foundation stone is now ready to be laid."

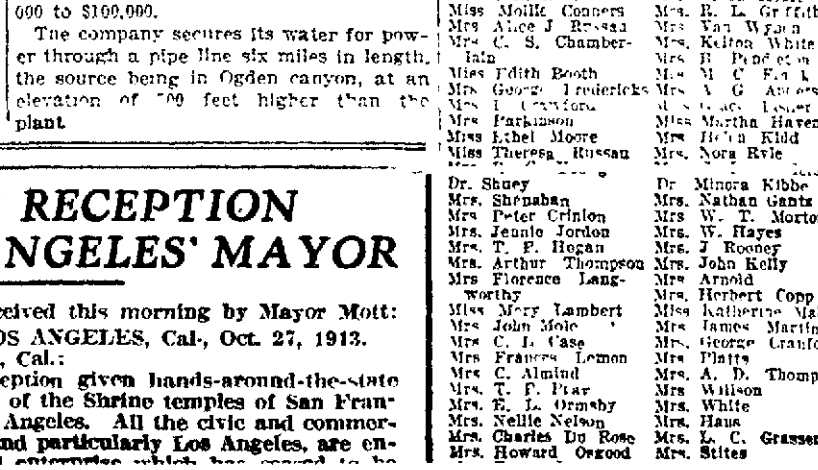

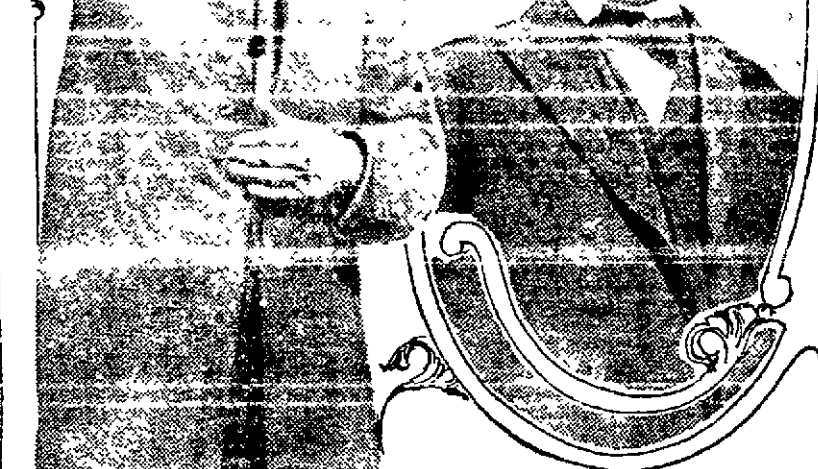

The following documents were placed in the stone:
Union Prayer Book as revised by Rev. Dr. M. Friedlander, for First Hebrew Congregation, Vol. I and II; constitution and by-laws of the First Hebrew Congregation of 1884-1885; Jewish Almanac of 1912-1913-1914; Divine Service Directory of the First Hebrew Congregation, 1912-1913; donation Jartzeft 5681-1856, short resume and President Abraham Jonas' report from 1908-1912; a Jewish prayer program, 1909; photograph of President Abraham Jonas; list of present officers and past presidents; list of present members; constitution and by-laws of Ladies' Auxiliary and list of officers; constitution and by-laws of Daughters of Israel Relief Society; and list of officers; proceedings of Grand Lodge, I. Prior to placing the articles in the stone, the records were read by Morry Samuels, secretary of the congregation. The services closed with a prayer given by Rabbi Bernard M. Kaplan of San Francisco.

NEW ISLAND FOUND IN NORTH ATLANTIC

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 27.—That a new island exists in the Atlantic 15 miles east of Sable Island, is the report made to the Marine Department at Halifax and communicated by it to headquarters at Ottawa. The information comes from Captain Anderson of the Gloucester fishing schooner Lizzie Giffin. When Captain Johnson, superintendent of lights, heard of the discovery, he interviewed Captain Anderson who informed him that the report was correct; that he found the island, and that it was to the eastward of Sable Island about 15 or 16 miles; that it was a dry bar and stood about 10 feet above high water and is in the track of ocean vessels. The government steamer will make an investigation on her next trip to the island, which will be in a few days.

Curtain Falls on Coast League Race With 1912 Champs in Cellar

Billy Fitz
Says,
Says he:

The doors are locked, the blinds pulled down, the cat has been put out, and the Coast League has crawled under the covers for its winter snooze. Now let the eulogies and the obsequies have full sway. Room for the dopesters, the volunteer managers, the soothsayers and the I-told-you-so boys. The King is dead; examine the royal books.

It was a peculiar race, this 1913 scramble. For most of the distance the wise boys were up in the air, unable to figure which team really stood the best chance. There were three months out of the seven when it was impossible to figure any team as out of the race. Financially every club finished ahead this year. Attendance and interest was good right up to the end of the season.

No serious trouble or difficulty was experienced by the players of the league, and no scandal disturbed public confidence.

Los Angeles looked an easy winner when the race was half over and the spring prophets were discomfited and entirely at a loss to understand just how or why those Angels should be leading the last week. They were a good club, suddenly proved that they had been playing over their heads, and their fall was even greater than that which marked the Angels' descent. The only thing that kept the Los Angeles club from occupying the cellar was that the Oaks were too completely demoralized to permit anyone taking the book from them.

The Oaks were knocked out by accidents, rotten pitching and the absence of a masterful pilot. They were a good club, but no one seems to know what the matter with the Angels, or why they should have gone to pieces. The infield has been like a sieve starting in epidemic of boots disastrous enough to marshal an army of glooms.

J. Cal Kinsing was altogether too late in strengthening his team. Overall, the Los Angeles and Seattle have been the club all year. San Francisco fans would certainly have seen the club finish in the first division, and probably either first or second. The Seals have been playing streaky baseball-like champions one moment and like muffs the next. The last week, however, has seen them win 60 per cent of their games, which is fair enough for anyone.

Portland's case presents another puzzle. McCredie's team led along in the work in April, May and June, until the Portland fans were ready to punch the northern magnates and boycott the ball. Then the Ducks suddenly came to life, the staff of pitchers rounded to form and shored their class, and the Ducks started for the lead by thrashing Oakland last week in June. That series marked the end for Oakland. The Ducks went into the lead on July 15 and were never afterward headed in the west.

The only team that has played consistent ball throughout the season is Sacramento, which is dominated, directed and driven by Harry Wolverton. The gray boys deserve more credit than any other manager for the look of invincibility which they have turned out. A ball club that finished second to one of the best clubs the coast has ever seen. The Wolves lacked brilliancy, but they got the job done.

Changes will be made by San Francisco, Portland or Sacramento. The Seals are a good club, but they are not as good as they were last year. And he is after another good right-hand pitcher. Wolverton will have to fill Johnny Williams' place on the pitching staff. He is said to be figuring on hard hitting second baseman. If he secures the man he wants, Kenworthy will be shifted to the outfield.

Los Angeles and Oakland will be completely rebuilt, with probably Oakland undergoing the most complete overhaul. Devlin, who was drafted by Oakland, will make the trip to Columbus next month and it is expected that at this meeting of managers deals will be consummated which will place the Angels in the hands of a winter baseball talent. San Francisco will share the honors behind the bat with his young team mate.

J. A. Zeller, manager of the Pittsburg club of the Eastern Association, sends me the following "poison" on William Barrenkamp, the pitcher drafted by Oakland.

"He was drafted from the South Atlantic league in 1911 by Seattle and reported to Eugene the following spring. He was a good pitcher, right there on account of the cold weather and a bad arm and was sent to Calgary in the N. W. Canada league, where he was out of the league for a while. He was then sent to the Seattle team. He had trouble with Cymmer this past spring, who released him outright. I got in touch with him immediately as I had known him in St. Louis and he pitched five ball here, much better than his record shows, as we did not get any runs for him. He was getting beat by one run in low score games in three of every five games he lost. One of the best games he worked he lost to New London, 1-0, 17 runs.

"He is about six feet and two inches, and weighs around 210 in shape—and knows how to pitch, has good control and a nice curve ball.

"Note that you have Gueat, who was drafted from me in Springfield last year, and was drafted by Seattle last fall. He does not hit better. Page is another who was taken from me. Good man on a club.

"Very truly yours,
 "J. A. ZELLER."

The usual burlesque baseball was staged around the city of Sacramento, where nothing was going on. The official scorer lost all sense of the game and finally called the game a draw.

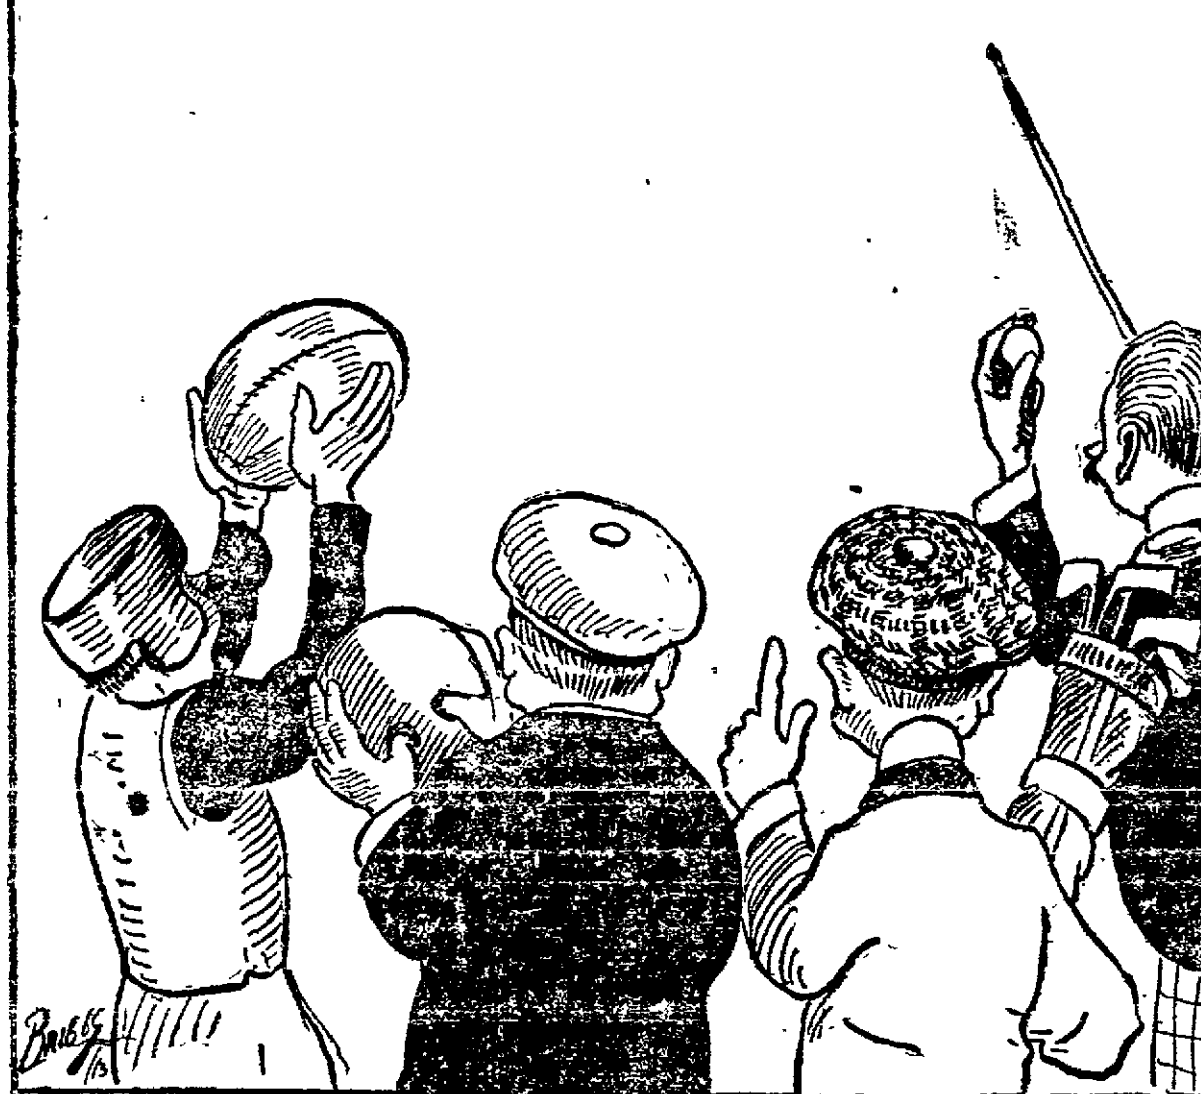

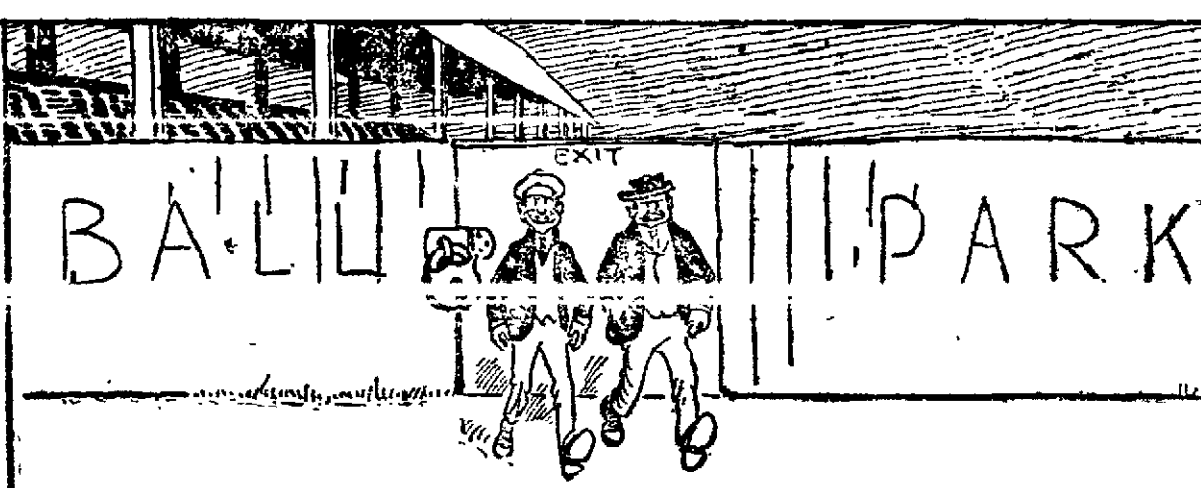

The players backed their backs to the wall, and the game was a complete fiasco. The players were so demoralized that they were unable to play a single inning.

Soft for the Players.

At a meeting of baseball writers in New York during the world's series the conversation turned to the baseball writers' new competitors, the ball players, who break into print with articles under their names.

One of the players who has been widely featured as an "author," in the last few years has been Ted, the big Ozark Mountain bear hunter.

Articles by Ted were played up daily in a prominent New York newspaper and other papers for that matter, under flaring headlines. At this meeting of the scribes the man who wrote the articles happened to be present.

"How much information did Ted read you for those articles?" he was asked.

"Well," replied the writer, "after one game I went back to the club house. Ted had been knocked out of the box. When I came in he was rubbing his eyes and looking very tired. So I went back to see him, stated the purpose of my visit and waited for his answer. It finally came, and here it is, verbatim:

"We oughter beat them there birds today."

Joe Wood and Tris Speaker were two writers who were advertised and featured last fall. One man prominent in the transaction said that Joe and Tris pulled down $1,000 each for allowing their names to be used over their articles.

Neither of them, according to this authority, supplied a word or a line for the man who wrote the stories—he was an expert newspaper writer—never found them after a game and did not see them from the back of the press box on the ball field.

San Johnson knew what he was doing when he told the players that he would come to the Commission's headquarters and dictate their stories to an expert stenographer, who would hand the copy to the editor of the daily paper.

But there is the ball players' side of the argument. One of the stars in the last world's series said a well known writer that he could draw down $1,000 for the use of his name over the newspaper stories.

"I would be an awfully bone if I would not grab the thousand bucks if I they're offered, why shouldn't I?"

The umpire was forced to agree with the player.

When the Glants were in the South a season or two ago, a story riddled over the wires told that their club house had been raided, that their personal belongings stolen, and their property ruthlessly destroyed. Charles Webb Murphy, now chief owner of the Chicago National, who has kept his characteristically well before the public in recent years, said that that was the way it had been a sport writer on the Chicago National.

The principal feature of the story was actual facts.

For all any stuff's passed—using his full name—had discovered the outrage, on his early arrival at the margin of error in the morning. The margin of error in the morning was that it was Charles Webb Murphy who perpetrated the dastardly burglary. In short, it was a case of "baker's" of them.

But the most important one was slightly distorted.

NO OAK FINISHES BATTING .300

8 COASTERS BEAT THIS MARK

Eight coasters finished the season above the .300 mark in the batting percentage column and of the bunch only one was an Oak. Leading the eight foremost league hitters and incidentally the entire league roster is little Dickie Bayless, the diminutive outfielder of Hay Hog's bunch of Bengals. Bayless, while small in physique, is husky in batting, having the juicy little season percentage of .324. Of course there are many who are prone to dispute Bayless' claim to the top notch honor, declaring that Maurice Markowitz, the ex-Oak who finished the season with a grand total of 1,000 per cent, is entitled to that high honor. Be it as it may, however, the league chiefs have the roster. But to continue to the official ruling. Following on the heels of Dickie is Earl Maggart with .315. Specs of Portland is above Earl by a shadow, but the Angel member has participated in a far greater number of contests. Jimmy Johnston, the Sealee stealer of bases, is right up in the running with .302.

Also heads the best batting column, having the mere bagatelle of 123 s. b. to his credit. Maggart follows with 72, while an Oak, Bill Leard, brings up third with 70. Run getting honors go to Earl Maggart, who has 123 s. b. to his credit. It looked for awhile as if Carlisle would bring home the bacon in this department, but Carlisle has been absent from the game for the past couple of weeks, and Earl took advantage of the opportunity and marched into the lead. Carlisle has 124 to his credit.

Here's the way the regulars over 500 looked:

	G.	AB.	R.	BB.	Pct.
Bayless, Venice	180	708	105	230	.324
Specs, Portland	90	310	28	98	.316

Rodgers, Portland	159	784	91	258	.308
Doane, Portland	157	581	87	177	.303

NEW COURSE DOESN'T BOTHER THEM

Vardon and Ray continued yesterday to give us lessons in golf. The British professionals negotiated the course on the Beresford links in 70 and 72 before an adoring gallery.

The Englishmen were pitted against Louis Berrien, professional of the Beresford club; Fred Reilly, professional of the Burlingame Country club, and Harold Mack, the crack amateur player of the Beresford organization. In each of the 18 hole matches played, the visitors pitting their best ball against the best ball of the opposing trio, the score at the finish was 115 to 113 with Vardon and Ray on the winning end.

Vardon and Ray will play on the Portland course on Tuesday and Wednesday, and Victoria, and from there return to their native country.

DATES FIXED FOR '16 OLYMPIC GAMES

BERLIN, Oct. 27. — The principal track and field events of the Olympic games to be held here in 1916 are to be decided between July 1 and 10, according to an announcement made today by the German Olympic committee. The June dates contemplated earlier were abandoned by the committee at the instigation of the United States, which objected because college athletes from that country would be unable to attend at the time of the year.

The football and hockey championships are to be contested on May 23 and June 12, respectively, and the rowing on August 12. The dates for the sailing, golf, etc. are yet to be decided.

Mills Hangs Up Best Pistol Score

A big delegation of shooters reported at the Shellmound range yesterday afternoon and some good scores were recorded. R. Mills shot the best work with the .22, rolling up two scores of 95 in the monthly event of the Golden Gate Rifle and Pistol club.

Henry Lumborg leads the San Francisco Schutzen Verein experts in the ten best bullseye competition. O. Rosenberg is second and E. F. Brown is third. Hornsby has scored the most bullseyes with Lumborg a close second and Captain J. D. Heise a distant third.

The lot at Telegraph avenue and Alcatraz would surely make a grand baseball ground if it were fenced in and the grounds put in shape. It is as large as the Coast League grounds and even with the wildest of amateur teams playing there now the attendance is good. Talk it up, somebody, and we will have another ball park which we badly need for our amateur games are increasing each season.

Tennis circles are gasping in surprise today over the winning of the bay counties doubles championship by Ella Fottrell and Byron Batkin, who defeated John Strachan and Clarence Griffin in the final match yesterday at Golden Gate park.

Strachan and Griffin had earlier in the tourney beaten McLaughlin and Dr. Hardy so that the victory of Batkin and Fottrell was still more unexpected. Great confidence reigned in the defeat of Fottrell and Batkin won from Strachan and Griffin in a five set match by the scores of 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3. No matches were played in the tenth annual bay counties singles tournament yesterday. Lindsey Murray, the Stanford university champion, is in as a result of the strenuous matches he figured in last Sunday and his match with Batkin in the semi-final round, scheduled for yesterday, was postponed until next Sunday.

The winner of the match will meet John Strachan, who is already in the final, for the championship.

CRITICISING ADVS

Profitable and Instructive Contest Now Being Conducted by Tribune.

For the best criticism of the wording and construction of any classified advertisement of country lands we will pay $3.00, next best $2.00, next $1.00. Select one particular advertisement, then make your criticism.

EXAMPLE.
This is a fair sample of the many poor advertisements to be found in newspapers—space-savers that say little that they seldom bring answer.
“FOR RENT—6-room cottage, re-
$25.00. Inquire, 2244 E. 1st St.”

How much stronger this advertisement would be if it stated whether the cottage was modern, said something of its interior arrangement, told how far it was from San Francisco trains, street cars and schools and gave some idea of the class neighborhood surrounding it, etc.

If you find a particularly good advertisement, tell why it is good—

RULES.
No criticism to be more than words. Write on one side of paper only. Copy of advertisement criticised must be pasted on criticism.

Q The METROSTYLE, is a simple device—the one who plays follows a line on the music roll—that line instructs how great pianists play the selection—shows how to play it correctly. Just “pumping” at a player piano does not make music—you need the METROSTYLE—with it your understanding of real music is capable of quick development and your enjoyment is increased a thousand fold.

Q The METROSTYLE can only be found in the PIANOLA—the standard in Player Pianos. The PIANOLA is combined only with six pianos—Steinway, Weber, Steck, Wheelock, Stuyvesant and Stroud.

LOSSES AT NOME

TOTAL $750,000

Reports of Terrible Damage by Storm Reach San Francisco.

Lincoln Highway BEING FINISHED

Route From New York to San Francisco Almost Completely Marked.

DETROIT, Oct. 27.—The route of the Lincoln highway will be marked, almost without a break from New York to San Francisco, by the night of Friday, October 27.

Three-quarters of a million dollars. The entire south side of Front street was razed by the waters and the wind, not a building being left standing in that section.

Money assistance is urgently needed by those remaining in Nome, hundreds of whom have lost their all and have not the money to come outside for the winter. With plenty of stores, but no money to buy them, the situation is serious, according to the reports brought out by the storm.

The storm broke over Nome on the night of October 2 and reached its height on the night of the 4th, or rather the morning of October 5.

While the storm abated on that day, the sea was so rough that none could go off to the Victoria, which had come back in the open roadstead after taking shelter at Cape Nome, and although the vessel was scheduled to sail for Seattle October 5, it was not until ten days later that the sea was smooth enough for passengers and freight to be taken on board and a departure made.

FOUR FIRES THREATEN HOMES ABOUT MARIN

SAN RAFAEL, Oct. 27.—San Rafael's volunteer fire-fighting force was faced with an extraordinary situation when four fires, three originating from candles, sprang up simultaneously in widely separated portions of this city.

The trouble started when a number of candles were lit in the local cathedral of the Pacific Gas and Electric company, throwing the entire city in darkness. Although a part of the gas plant caught fire from the burning fuses and it looked for a time as though the big gas storage tanks were endangered, the loss was insignificant.

While the firemen were still fighting the flames in the sub-plant, two new fires were turned in from different parts of the city. The residence of William Vincent on Petaluma avenue took fire almost simultaneously with the clothing establishment of Alexander Schevitz in the business block bounded by Third, Fourth, A and B streets. The latter was quickly extinguished with a loss of probably $750, chiefly from the water and smoke. The Vincent house and outbuildings were burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at $5000.

While still fighting desperately to contain the flames to the Vincent property, a new alarm, announcing a serious grass fire near the summit of the Petaluma avenue grade, was turned in. This, however, was quickly subdued without property loss.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT NOT LIKED

TACOMA, Oct. 27.—There is strong prospect that Tacoma voters, next spring, will get another chance to change the form of city government, abolishing the commission form adopted four years ago. Since Mayor Reed came out a few weeks ago with his denunciation of the commission form sentiment for a change has been growing. It has been widely discussed at improvement club meetings, in the newspapers and civic organizations, and it is generally admitted that the commission plan, as now in force here, is not entirely satisfactory.

Only by invoking the initiative, however, can charter revision be effected. Three members of the city commission, comprising the majority, have declared emphatically that they are in favor of submitting a charter change to the voters at the coming regular election. The Public Advance League has declared in favor of charter revision and of invoking the initiative if necessary to get it. This league is composed of delegates from all the civic organizations and improvement clubs in the city.

CURRY IS SPEAKER AT STOCKTON CONFERENCE

STOCKTON, Oct. 27.—Plans for the formation of an extensive irrigation district in parts of Calaveras and San Joaquin counties in order to secure unity of action for the proposed impounding of the waters of the Calaveras river above Jenny Lind were discussed at a meeting of those interested in the proposition at the chamber of commerce.

A motion providing for necessary steps toward the organization of a district was made by Mayor Reibenstein, but it was decided that the vote be taken until the next meeting in order that all phases of the matter might be thoroughly investigated. Congressman C. F. Curry, who is here familiarizing himself with the needs of his constituents, told what has been done and what is being done in the national capital in regard to the plan, and also gave his opinion on the best way to proceed.

FORMER BERKELEYAN IS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 27.—Mrs. W. B. Gray, formerly of Hawaii and Berkeley, was seriously injured here yesterday when an automobile driven by her husband struck another car and then careened head on into a telephone pole. Harry Payne and Elita Beane, a nurse, were slightly hurt.

MURDERER OF J. BURTON SENTENCED FOUR YEARS

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 27.—The jury in the trial of John Burton and Mrs. George Gottschalk, charged with the murder of the woman's husband, today brought in a verdict acquitting Mrs. Gottschalk and giving Burton four years for manslaughter.

Apples for Work Horses; "Horse's Prayer" for Driver

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Big red apples will greet Chicago's work horses next Friday when they walk up to the various drinking troughs of the city. The apple party for the big draft horses is to be given by the Anti-Cruelty Society, which plans to make "apple day" an annual event. Society women will stand at the troughs and hand drivers a copy of "The Horse's Prayer," a plea for kinder treatment of the beasts of work.

"MRS. PANKHURST ENEMY OF MORALS"

Those Opposed to Woman Suffrage Score Leader in Public Statement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—"Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, while pretending to teach American women how to curb the white-slave traffic, is countenancing the surest way of upbuilding this evil. By defending the atrocious matter in The Suffragette and by inducing 'The Lure' from the box from which she witnessed the performance of that play, she puts the seal of her approval on the most iniquitous dramatic and literary tendencies in this country."

This is the opening paragraph of a Washington Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"Mrs. Pankhurst's action follows close upon the endorsement of 'The Lure' and 'The Fight' by the suffragists of New York as the best arguments ever written in behalf of woman suffrage," continues the statement. "The subject matters of these plays were such as to compel interference by the police. The police interfered with such productions because they have had a bad effect on public morals. Here, then, we are presented with suffrage, which advertises itself as the rectifier of evil, commending plays that the government of a great city condemned."

"Mrs. Pankhurst should endeavor to correct her own point of view and labor to reform the methods of the suffragist before entering the wider field."

"If Mrs. Pankhurst has a real remedy for the social evil, this organization will be the first to commend it. But her conduct since she was allowed to enter this country has been anything but encouraging to the people who are earnestly fighting the white slave traffic, and as things stand now, there may come the day when the evangelist from England, who hailed American suffragists as the leaders of the fight against the white slave traffic, will discover that in reality they have adopted methods calculated to foster the evil."

"Mrs. Pankhurst will do well if she succeeds in using a little more discretion in her own actions and in reforming the theatrical and literary activities of American suffragists who are encouraging the detachment of public morality."

EXHIBIT OF STAMPS WORTH OVER $2,000,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—That the collection of postage stamps ever continues to have its devotees, was evidenced by a great gathering of collectors here today for the first international philatelic exhibition ever held in this country. Collectors estimated that the value of the stamps shown was over $2,000,000. Some of the rarities were appraised at from $500 to $900 each. The largest individual collection shown was that of George H. Worthington, the Cleveland, Ohio, capitalist, whose collection was estimated to be worth $1,000,000.

ENGLISH WOMAN MISSING AFTER DEPORTATION

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Word reached here today that Miss Mary Compton, the wealthy young English woman who was deported two weeks ago, had disappeared from the steamship Canadian forty-eight hours after it sailed from this port. Captain Bullard of the Canadian reported by wireless to the W. M. F. M. that he arrived from Liverpool today that a thorough search of the ship failed to disclose any trace of the woman. Miss Compton, who said she had come here to "investigate spiritualism," was deported as being mad.

Establishing a Right of Way

IT seems like pretty smooth sailing, when you get a clear line and have a telephone talk with a party in another city a thousand miles away.

You see nothing of the wonderful switchboards where skillful operators handle your call and the lines are "hooked up" to give your talk the right of way over two thousand miles of copper wire, guarded every inch of the way from all kinds of interference.

You scarcely realize that during every moment of your thousand-mile telephone talk, telephone apparatus and plant valued at from $150,000 to $200,000 are at your exclusive service.

In the Bell Telephone System 26,000,000 connections are made daily, giving clear tracks for the telephone talk of the nation and requiring over one billion dollars' worth of telephone equipment.
